METCALF W. MELCHER

"Today we have a longer waiting list than ever at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for the Aged," says Metcalf W. Melcher, president of this Red Feather Agency, as he handed me a batch of letters. The appreciative messages were from doctors, friends and relatives of the elderly ladies whose declining years had been spent peacefully in the rambling home at 277 Elliott street, Newton Upper Falls.

The first letter began: "In memory of my sister, I want to express my deep gratitude for the faithful care she received during her last illness. If she had been living in her own home, no greater expression of love and self sacrifice could have been possible by members of Hancock Point on Frenchman's Bay, just north of Bar Harbor. My hobbies were fishing and golf—with emphasis on the past tense."

The Melcher winter home is at 147 Lake avenue, Newton Centre. Their only daughter, Mrs. Warren T. Bryant, of Weston, has three active children of her own—Peggy, Pete and Susan—who are the grandparents' delight.

Next I wanted to know the history, aims and needs of the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People.

"It was dedicated in 1899," Mr. Melcher told me, "through the generous bequest of Mr. Joseph Stone. Through continuous effort of those who formed the corporation and of those who have served it since, we have cared for 151 needy Newton ladies. I became interested through our friendship with Mrs. Morton E. Cobb whose father, Mr. Joseph E. Byers, was one of the original incorporators. He became president when Mr. Charles E. Riley, who had been president for 25 years, had to resign because of failing health. Mr. Riley did much to interest the citizens of Newton in the financial needs of the Home with the result that we now have a considerable endowment."

"How many can you care for at a time?" I asked.

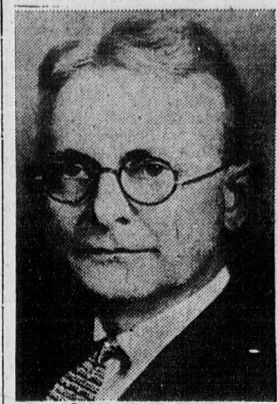

"Only 25," he said with regret, and there are 34 on the waiting list. The residents are given personal supervision by the matron, Mrs. Lillian M. Grove, the nurses and others on the staff. Each resident must be 65 or over, a citizen of the United States and, preferably, from Newton. The initiation fee is $250 plus all the personal possessions of the applicant. She must be in reasonably good health and pass a physical examination. Thereafter, the Home takes care of her as long as she lives. And here let me correct two misconceptions. This is not a hospital but a home. And second, it is not a charitable institution as every resident must pay the full admission fee."

"And the accommodations?" "Mr. Melcher's pride in these was good to see. "Each resident has a single room with a clothes closet and running water. The meals are excellent. We provide all clothes. The average age is over 82. A staff of doctors, dentists, oculists and chiropodists give generously of their time and professional skill. The Home has a large lot in the Newton cemetery. Interment is made there unless the ladies have their own lots. And all funeral expenses are provided."

Then Mr. Melcher told of the many interests that filled the days and years at the Home. "As this is a non-denominational Home, many ministers and their choirs alternate in holding religious services. Various clubs come up to provide entertainment. And in summer the Red Cross often takes the ladies to ride."

Dr. Anderson Sums Up '44 School Bldg. Plan at PTA Council Meeting

If the mood of the PTA Council meeting at the Mason School Monday evening can be taken as evidence, the patience of Newton parents is at an end regarding the delay in action on the Newton School Building Program. Indignation was particularly expressed at the absence from the meeting of the Long-Range Planning Committee and its chairman, Mr. Pratt, the city engineer. Mr. Fred Harvey, chairman of the PTA Council Building Committee, read a letter from the Planning Committee stating that the Committee was too new at its job and not sufficiently armed with facts to appear at a meeting of this kind, and that an opportunity would be provided in the near future for the PTA Council to present its views to the Planning Committee.

Mr. Harvey asked Dr. Homer Anderson, superintendent of the Newton Schools, to sum up the — P.T.A. —

Organization Asked to Clear Names Thru Xmas Comm.

The Newton Community council is appealing to Newton churches, clubs, agencies and organizations to clear all the names of families and individuals whom they are planning to help at Christmas time through the Council's Christmas Clearance Committee.

This is the thirteenth year of operation for the Council's Christmas Clearance Committee, of which Mrs. Roger C. Ellis is chairman. The committee was organized to prevent duplication of giving in Newton at Christmas and to insure help for the most needy. Last year over 22 per cent of the names submitted were duplications, and there were still many organizations which failed to clear names, Mrs. Ellis points out. The Christmas Clearance Committee's service is free and entirely confidential. All lists of names are destroyed after December 25 and no records kept in or — Clear —

The acute need for Veterans' housing in Newton is evidenced by the active interest shown in the Veterans' Housing Exhibit now on display at Edmund T. Dungan, Commissioner of Veterans Services, who is currently conducting a survey to determine just what the home requirements are for the City's ex-servicemen.

At the same time, Mr. Dungan urged all veterans, who had not already done so, to come to City Hall, see the exhibit of the proposed homes, and to register their requirements on a form that has been prepared for this purpose.

"The City's program," he said, "is to be based on an established need and not on guess-work. That's the reason we're conducting this survey, and it's important, therefore, that we have the name of every veteran who actually is in need of a place to live."

The proposed housing program contemplates the construction of — Housing —

Christmas Seals

We know this about tuberculosis, if the disease is detected in its early stages, it can be cured. Christmas seals over many years have provided the funds for the prevention and early detection of tuberculosis.

Moreover, these cheery little seals make excellent decorations for Christmas card envelopes and Christmas packages. They cost only a penny apiece.

And remember, part of the money received by the sale of seals here, remains in Newton for the work locally.

"Know Your Industries"

Newton has been described as a residential city whose working population is comprised largely of commuters.

Without going into comparative statistics (who was it said that statistics are odious?) it is of course a patent fact that large numbers of our residents await the train each weekday morning and return via the same medium after their day's efforts are concluded.

Yet there is another side to Newton that does not seem to receive sufficient stress, the fact that we have a number of industries centered here, nationally known in many instances, that employ hundreds of local people, contented citizens, luckily untroubled by the din and jangle of urban competitiveness.

The worth and value of these establishments to the community, from the tax-paying and employment viewpoints alone, are oftentimes simply taken for granted, and it might therefore be a good idea if at some time a "Know Your Home Town Industries" Movement were initiated by your service clubs.

The students in our schools especially should have a first hand knowledge of Newton's products as well as a cognizance of the far-flung enterprises conducted by the resourceful men whose capital and initiative are being used in creating employment and in manufacturing products here that relate to the conveniences, needs and joys of today's living.

Mayor Curley Returns

The prompt return of James M. Curley to the Mayor's chair in Boston within forty-eight hours of his release from the federal prison in Connecticut is a phenomenon which most Bostonians will not care to have repeated within their lifetime. I am not interested, at the moment, in the merits of the case, which was dragged through our various courts for several years. Incidentally, if you or I had been convicted of a similar offense, we would have been thrown behind the bars of a prison in big time. Also, we would have stayed in prison for at least the minimum sentence of six months. The Mayor can thank our distinguished Democratic leader in the House of Representatives in Washington, Rep. John W. McCormack of Boston as well as the new Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, former Governor of Rhode Island and present U. S. Senator, the Hon. Howard McGrath, for securing his release from prison at an early date. The glory is all theirs.

What concerns your columnist today is something else, namely, just what will happen to the name and fame of Boston during the next decade or two. Also, what will happen to those very short-sighted members of the Republican party hereabouts who made it possible for James M. Curley to move, almost by sleight-of-hand, from a prison to the Mayor's chair in one of the finest cities in the entire country.

So far as Boston is concerned, it seems obvious that an aroused citizenry will undoubtedly rise in their wrath and install Plan E or some more or less similar plan, presumably with the addition of a City Manager. Just how long this will take is something else again. No one in his or her right mind can disagree with the thesis that Boston can no longer afford the luxury of having a political Mayor. As the tax-rate continues to rise and the government gets worse and worse, business will pick up and move elsewhere and the civilian population will continue its steady exodus to the suburbs and even farther away. Wait and see.

Why do I drag in the Republican party? For the simple reason that the G. O. P. controlled the 1947 Legislature, which refused to declare Mayor Curley's Mayor's seat vacant and which specifically ordered that City Clerk Hynes should be Acting Mayor until such time as Mayor Curley was allowed to leave the federal prison. My readers will doubtless recall a previous column in which I suggested the type of hocus-pocus among the pols which made this situation possible. If you missed that particular column, here is the big idea. Curley has a huge and blindly loyal following which will, presumably, never forget the generosity of the G. O. P. in safeguarding the Mayor's chair in City Hall. When the 1948 elections roll around, how do you suppose Mayor Curley's supporters will vote, especially if one of the many Democrats whom Curley hates is the nominee for Governor? And the G. O. P. alibi for this rather shabby piece of business? A recent member of the Legislature tells me that Henry L. Shattuck of Boston advised the G. O. P. that the Legislature PROBABLY could not legally declare Mayor Curley's seat vacant. This same former Legislator admitted frankly, when I pinned him down, that he, personally, would have checked up on the very distinguished Rep.

Shattuck before leaning over backwards so far in protecting Mr. Curley. 'Nuf ced.

Strictly Local

Many of us have been privileged to receive recently a most interesting booklet entitled, "A Print Shop—Fifty Years in Newton Centre, Massachusetts." The author is, of course, our old friend and long-time Alderman, John Temperley of 85 Thurston road, Newton Upper Falls, who opened a print shop in the basement of Bray Block at 77-79 Union street, Newton Centre on Dec. 1, 1897. A few years later the basement and street floor of No. 75 was taken over to handle increased business. As our John Temperley points out, his modest shop became one of the country's 60,000 print shops, — some big, some little and some middle-sized. Space will not permit reporting all the many, many items of interest in this booklet, which refers also to the start of the Town Crier in 1903. Just ten years ago this paper was sold to the Newton Graphic. May I suggest that every old-timer in Newton and many a newcomer, for that matter, will be fascinated by Mr. Temperley's description of the late Senator Ellis's ability as a skater on thin ice, (the gentleman weighed some 200 pounds), the antics of the ladies on bicycles and the playing of baseball and foot-ball on the old Cedar Street grounds in Newton Centre.

May you have many more happy and useful years in Newton, John Temperley.

Friendship Train

I wonder how many of us have really grasped fully the profound significance of the Friendship Train, sponsored, originally, by the well-known columnist, Drew Pearson, whose writings appear each evening in the Boston Traveler. Think a minute. Here we have a purely spontaneous stream of giving, participated in by thousands upon thousands of just plain American citizens in nearly every state in our country. Five hundred freight cars loaded with $6,000,000 — of food of all kinds was collected as a free-will offering to the hungry people of Europe. As I write this I have before me a picture of the vessel "Friendship" being christened at dockside ceremonies at Philadelphia, preparatory to sailing for Le Havre, France. This ship was loaded with grain for France and Italy.

What does this tremendous effort by the American people mean? It means two things; — first, that the people as a whole are way ahead of our Congress when it comes to DOING something concrete about the problems of Europe. Secondly, it means that we are now giving the people of Europe the best possible answer in reply to the proponents of Communism. While the "Commies" talk about what they will do for suffering men, women and children, the United States has ACTED. The moral is obvious.

Next he unfolded plans of the enlarged Home drawn by the Newton architect, Harry J. Carlson. "Our space is entirely inadequate for the needs of Newton," he explained. "So we hope to increase to a fifty room building. We could then take care of a few men, some elderly couples and more ladies. On the third floor there would be a hospital ward with 5 small rooms, a diet kitchen and sunroom where we could give better and more economical care when residents are ill."

He stood up to leave. "And now I would like to pay tribute to certain standing committees — the finance, house, admittance and visiting committees — who work faithfully. Let me give thanks and urge support of the Newton Community Chest which contributes to the support of our Red Feather Agency. And last, I cordially invite all Newton people to call at the Stone Institute and Newton Home for Aged People, preferably between 2 and 5 any afternoon. There they can see how money, given generously through the Community Chest, warms the hearts and supplies the needs of those who are facing old age, as we all must do some day."

Rotary Club

Speakers at the Newton Rotary Club meeting on Monday at the Brae Burn Club were two of Newton's Rotarians, Frank Simmons and Warren Huston, who spoke on physical education and athletics in the Newton Schools. "Doc" Simmons covered physical education in the schools, notably the primary schools. He showed dramatically the need for good facilities, equipment, and instructors in these early years. (1) 21 elementary schools there are only 7 with adequate and 8 with potentially adequate recreational space. He told us that we must recognize the importance of physical education and the lessons learned in sports in the growth and development of our children. We must provide for that need. Doc's fine story made us all more conscious of what must be done to provide for the normal development of our youngsters.

"Husty" told the story of this year's football team, its successes and its not so successes. He stressed the importance of football in teaching fundamentals, and pointed out that the plan inaugurated this year to teach football in the Junior High Schools will be of great value.

Nichols of Gardiner Me.

Attending the celebration were twenty relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, Sr., have two daughters, Mrs. Viola Hopkins of Auburndale and Mrs. William Boros of Cleveland, Ohio, two sons, Fred D. of Gardiner Me. and Clyde Nichols of Newtonville and five grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols have a son, Fred Nichols, Jr.

Blood Donor Unit to Visit Boston College

Boston College will be host to the State Bloodmobile Unit on its next visit to the city of Newton on December 15th and 16th, under arrangements worked out by the Newton Red Cross Chapter. In charge of the project is Father Francis McManus, Dean of Men in the School of Business Administration.

According to Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, chairman of the Newton Blood Donor Committee, registration dates for students and faculty signing up as donors were held on December 1, 2, and 3.

It is expected that with the contributions from the Boston College students Newton will reach its 1947 quota of 700 pints assigned by the State. This is the third year of the unit during the current year.

Thirteen stationary meteorological observation ships are to be spotted along the North Atlantic air and sea lanes and maintained as aids to navigation.

Frank Simmons Speaks at Davis P.T.A. Meeting

At a meeting of the Parent Teacher's Association of the Davis School, West Newton on Monday night, attended by over 125 members, a talk was given by Frank M. Simmons, director of physical health and safety education for the Newton Public schools.

Mr. Simmons outlined the present needs and future plans for physical education in the Davis School and other elementary schools of the city.

President George F. Kellar read a reply to the association's letter to Dr. Ernest Morris, director of Public Health, in which Dr. Morris expressed complete agreement with the group's move to have Cheesecake Brook covered over. Street Commissioner Harold F. Young has stated that the work will be undertaken as soon as funds are made available by the city government.

Charles Evans was appointed chairman of a committee to seek improvements in the school building and playground.

Principal Frank Tanner made a plea for small radios for use in class rooms and members of the association volunteered to make any repairs needed on radios that may be donated.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Guy R. King and Mrs. Ralph Chisholm, hospitality chairman, assisted by mothers of the 4th and 5th grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Nelse Harvan and Mrs. Nelson Johnson.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

What is the value of a life? This question might easily be asked of anyone. The answer would vary according to the persons interpretation of living. For the most part life is held fairly cheap.

Five years ago November 28th the Coconut Grove fire took close to 500 lives. These people had their lives snuffed out in a matter of a few minutes. The history of this tragedy is well known, but what kind of an impression did it make on you as an individual. Has it made you want to prevent fires? To some of those who heard about it, it was a terrible holocaust, to others, —well—that's the way life is. For the most part unless you knew or had someone taken in this disaster or have a natural dread of fires it probably did not make much of an impression on you.

Since then many laws, rules and regulations have been passed or adopted to try and combat the re-occurrence of such a thing. Permits and licenses are required for certain conditions or items. Inspections are constantly being made, but it is impossible for any agency to continually maintain inspectors every place where they are needed. This then places the main responsibility on the owners or managers to see that all of the safety regulations are adhered to, for the protection of their clientele and employees and to ensure their staying in business.

There is no doubt that there are still plenty of buildings housing families, that if the owners were obliged to dwell there they might well hesitate, knowing the existing conditions. Still they feel that it is all right for someone else to live there. Maybe if they had to live in some of these unsafe buildings they would really do something for their own protection as well as the other families. It would help improve the property as well as safeguard their investment.

The attitude of, well I don't own it, why should I do anything about it, should be a thing of the past. The prevention of fires is everybody's business wherever they may be.

In spite of all of the recent adoption of new regulations the death toll is steadily mounting, not so much in businesses as it is from fires in the homes. A large portion of these lives that are lost are helpless babies in cribs and young children that have been left at home alone or who have access to matches. Parents are the only ones who can stop this needless waste of human lives in the home.

Be fair to yourself, instead of trying to inspect your home in your mind, while comfortably seated or resting, to pick out conditions, make a personal tour and see just what conditions actually do exist. Remedy the trouble makers at that time, to-night might be too late. You owe this knowledge of your home to yourself and your family.

For the most part buildings and furnishings can be replaced, but the life and the love of those close to us that are taken needlessly by fire can never be filled. Today and every day is the time to stop fires from starting, so that our homes or place of business will not become a small Coconut Grove disaster. A fire prevented is a life, a home or a business saved.

367 single family residences on land prepared and serviced by the City. Negotiations for this home development have already been entered into with Joseph F. Kelly, President of the Kelly Construction Company, New England's largest home building organization. According to Mr. Kelly, all the homes could be finished by the end of 1948, if the City gives the go-ahead signal this month and some would be ready for occupancy by early summer.

The planning for the proposed site has already been completed by Willard F. Pratt, City Engineer. The latter has incorporated the most advanced features of modern land planning in this site lay-out, with particular emphasis having been placed on doing away with traffic hazards for children, and locating the home in a manner to obtain a maximum of variety and convenience. A school and shopping center will be easily accessible to all parts of the development.

The proposed homes will have three bedrooms, living-room, kitchen, dinette and a utility room that will contain the heating unit. With respect to the latter, all the homes will be heated radiantly from hot water running through copper tubing laced in the floor. Radiant heat, which has been called the most exciting development in heating for generations, affects the walls and floors first, and then by radiation heats objects, the intervening air remaining moist and inoperative. Uniformity of radiant heat prevents the constant displacement of hot air by cold, known as "Convection currents" or drafts.

The houses will be of conventional construction—not pre-fabricated—and will rest on a full-sized reinforced concrete slab built on a fill of gravel to a depth below the frost-line and enclosed by a reinforced concrete wall, also built below the frost-line.

It is also planned that the new homes—which can be bought with no down payment for as little as approximately $45.00 a month plus local real estate taxes—will be equipped with such added features as venetian blinds, initial window shutters, window boxes, door-knocker, chimes, built-in ironing board, and fluorescent lighting in the kitchen. All will be equipped with standard fixtures such as complete kitchen cabinets, bath tub and shower, ample closets and four inches of rock wool insulation.

The exhibit also points out the savings home buyers achieve through income tax deductions. Inasmuch as both interest and local real estate taxes are deductible items, home buyers realize a net savings of from $8 to $10 a month on their federal income tax obligations.

1944 building plan made by the School Committee. Dr. Anderson explained this plan in detail, pointing out that many schools that were not only inadequate but actually dangerous ten years ago, in 1937, are still in use. The 1944 plan included the building of new schools away from heavily travelled streets wherever possible, the equalization of school districts, the relocation and building of an additional Junior High School and the conversion of the Weeks Junior High into a second Senior High School. Two new factors have entered the picture since 1944, according to Dr. Anderson. These are the increased kindergarten enrollments, necessitating additional first and second grade classes; and the building of new homes near schools that are already crowded to capacity. Dr. Anderson cited the case of the Franklin School, which now needs four additional classrooms. This would not take into consideration the increase in enrollment that would result from the building of 114 new homes in the district (this many building permits have been issued). Many other schools are already filled to capacity, including the Mason, Rice (built in 1863), Williams, Hyde, Ward, and Oak Hill.

Dr. Anderson pointed out that during the war no building or other city improvements could take place. But instead of piling up a surplus for future use, the city administration lowered the tax rate. Thus no funds are on hand and a new financing program must be undertaken. Dr. Anderson estimated that the entire school building program would cost about $4,000,000 with a possible 10 per cent variation up or down. This sum might be reduced by the sale of old school buildings and sites. A saving to the city would be effected not only by a reduction in maintenance costs by the use of fewer and more economically constructed school buildings, but also by the financing of the project as a unit, and not step by step. The cost to the taxpayer for the entire program, financed over a 20-year period, is estimated at a little less than $2 per thousand.

Dr. Anderson said that the School Committee has presented all the facts and estimates of cost of the School Program to the Long-Range Planning Committee. It is the duty of P.T.A. members, said Dr. Anderson, to let the Planning Committee and the mayor and the Board of Aldermen know that they, the citizens, are willing to spend more in taxes, if necessary, in order to have an adequate and safe school plant for our children.

Mr. Clyde Casady, Alderman-elect from Ward 6, urged P.T.A. members to work toward getting the facts before all organizations in the various villages, including Improvement Associations, Women's Clubs, and the League of Women Voters.

Desire for immediate action was expressed by several individual parents attending the meeting. One in particular asked if the city was waiting for another Coconut Grove disaster in Newton before something was done about the firetraps we are now permitting our children to remain in day after day.

The P.T.A. Council elected two members to the Council Nominating Committee: Mr. Julius Kohler, of the Underwood School, and Mrs. Albert C. Walker, of the Hyde School. These are in addition to the two mem-

State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Ernest A. Hale, Twelfth District Director; also Mrs. Herbert A. Mann, Chairman of Music of the Federation and Miss Estelle G. Marsh, President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

Dr. H. Augustine Smith, founder and conductor of the Choral Art Society, was professor and head of the Department of Church Music, Boston University for thirty years. He has travelled some one million miles in connection with his lecturing and as Festival Director in over thirty colleges and universities; and in 1250 cities on four continents. He is the editor of twelve books totalling some two million in use.

The Choral Art Society has travelled some 25,000 miles, singing at the New York World's Fair and in Fifth Avenue Churches, Orchestra Hall, Chicago, The Arena, Boston, Duke University Chapel, and in Rochester, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Thomas (Canada), Toledo, Baltimore, Washington, Raleigh, and over one hundred New England and other Mid-West and Southern cities.

The program will be preceded by coffee and silver offering at ten o'clock and members of all Newton women's clubs are invited. There is a definite place for music in the life of Newton Club Women and this was demonstrated by the enthusiasm of members from the many Women's Clubs who attended the first Newton Morning Musicale, given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club last spring.

The following Committees are in charge of the event:

Music committee: Mrs. Herbert J. Ham, chairman; Mrs. Walter H. Bird, secretary; Mrs. David W. Skinner, treasurer; and Mrs. Billings Harris, publicity.

In charge of silver coffee preceding the program: Mrs. John W. Merrill, chairman; Mrs. Harold R. Keller, co-chairman; Mesdames Walter H. Bird, C. Hassler Capron, John F. Capron, George H. Crosbie, Thomas Legarre, Fenn, Walter Knight, and John M. Tomb.

Chairman of hostesses: Mrs. Melville D. Liming assisted by Mesdames Annie L. Eastman, Paul M. Goddard, Billings Harris, Madeline MacPherson, Kirtley Mather, Harry E. Moore, Peter T. Reuter, Henry A. Thomas, Jr., S. W. Wilder, and Miss Marion Haskell.

Pourers: Mrs. Virgil G. Casten and Mrs. John W. Gahan.

Other members of the Music Committee: Mesdames Homer W. Anderson, Walter S. Anderson, Edward A. Esteve, Harold G. Giddings, Donald M. Hill, Arthur J. Lucier, Joseph A. McKee, John R. Perry, William H. Perry, A. Edward Roys, William H. Waterfall, Ernest H. Wilkins, and George W. Van Gorder.

Patronesses: Mesdames Virgil

bers elected by the Council Executive Committee, Mr. John Mason Williams, of Weeks Junior High, and Mrs. J. Carlton McCullough, of the F. A. Day Junior High. Mr. Robert Jackson is chairman of the nominating committee.

The next meeting of the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations will be on February 2, at the Underwood School.

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of the establishment of his printing plant at 75 Union street, Newton Centre, John Temperley, former Newton Alderman, held open house on Monday at his plant where he received the good wishes of his many friends and business associates, also floral tributes from Newton Centre business firms.

In connection with the anniversary celebration Mr. Temperley published a 32-page booklet containing a historical account of Newton Centre during the past half century with many other little items of interest concerning that village, which he is distributing among his clients.

Mr. Temperley served for 16 years as alderman-at-large from Ward 5. He started in the printing business December 1, 1897 and for 25 years was the publisher of "The Town Crier" which he sold in 1923 and which later was taken over by the Newton Graphic.

He is married and lives at 85 Thurston road, Newton Upper Falls. He and Mrs. Temperley have four daughters, Mrs. Raymond E. Boardman of Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Paul A. Barker of Hixson, Tennessee; Miss Alice M. and Miss Phyllis Temperley, both of Newton Upper Falls and a son, John K. Temperley of Washington, New Jersey, veteran of World War II, now employed by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

West Newton—Under the caption "Heroic Act in Newton" Bud Brier tells the following story in the Boston Globe: Dennis Barry, a well known West Newton business man, has for two days been the object of an immense amount of interest on the part of his numerous friends, on account of an exploit in which he figured as the hero Saturday afternoon. Mr. Barry tells the story himself, regarding it as altogether too good to keep. Saturday while on the way to his dinner, when on Washington street, he was startled to hear the cry, "Lilly's in the brook!" uttered by a little girl, who was approaching him at a run. Without waiting to make inquiries, he started in the direction of Cheesecake brook drain, which at this point is deep enough to drown a child or even a grown person. His haste was accelerated by the appearance of a second child, calling "Help!" at the top of her voice and repeating the refrain? "Lilly's in the brook!" At the edge of the brook he found still a third little one, wringing her hands and repeating the lament. Visions of humane society medals floated through his mind. Without hesitation he sprang into the icy water, and seeing an object floating away, grasped it, and brought up a headless and armless rag doll.

St. John's Book Club To Present Mission Church Choir Boys

St. John's Book Club of Wellesley Hills will present the famous Mission Church Choir Boys in a Christmas Concert in the Church Hall on Tuesday evening, December 16th at eight o'clock.

These boys captivated the critics in their operatic debut on March 21st of this year at the Boston Opera House when they were an outstanding feature of the Performance Bizet's "Carmen". They were also pronounced a success in a later performance of "Boris Goudounov".

This is a rare opportunity to hear this group of boys whom the great operatic concert master, Kirk Adler of the Metropolitan Opera, acclaimed as the best boys organization which has appeared with the company in their appearances in various parts of the country. The ages of these boys range from eight to thirteen years and they are under the direction of the organ and choir master, Dr. Rodolphe E. Pepin.

Newton "Y" Beats Brattle Chess Club

The Newton "Y" Chess club defeated the Brattle Club of Cambridge 7 to 5 at the Newton Y.M.C.A., Friday Nov. 28th. Last spring Brattle Club won 9 to 3. Friday night playing twelve boards Newton Y won 6 tied 2 and lost 4. The summary:

Two West Newton Men on Yankee Network Program

Two West Newton men will take part in the spontaneous discussion of "Credit Financing" on the weekly series, "Small Business Speaks Up," on Sunday, December 7, from 1:30 to 2 p.m. over WNAC and the Yankee Network.

The are Richard C. Cooke, president of Industrial Teamwork, Inc., who will act as moderator, and William H. Perry, president and treasurer of the Cambridge Paper Box Company.

This program is aired each Sunday by the Yankee Network under the direction of Paul Keyes in an effort to bring before the public some of the specific problems facing men engaged in their own small business, the backbone of democracy. Of the three and a half million business firms competing with each other in the United States today, 98 per cent of them are small businesses.

manager of the recent club show, spoke of the success of that affair and thanked the many who had aided in the performance. Miss Joan Arcese gave some of her synchronous and recorded impersonations of Al Jolson, which were warmly applauded. Edward Whiting, chairman of the program committee, told one of his amusing stories, and introduced the speaker, who was Brig. Gen. Henry Parkman, Jr., of Boston.

Gen. Parkman returned last September from a post in the military government of Germany, first as director of the Civil Administration Division, and then as government advisor to Gen. Lucius C. Clay.

Gen. Parkman gave a most interesting picture of present conditions in Germany. He outlined the plans for the reorganization of the German government, with state governments handling local affairs, and the central government of limited powers. Then he went on to discuss political and economic and various conditions. After his address he answered many questions. One feature of his address was a review of election results in Germany, which showed relatively little support for Russian ideas, in the districts where these elections were held.

Clairhorne Galleries Open at Newton Cor.

Art lovers and artists of Newton will be pleased to know that a real art gallery has opened in Newton — a place where the work of local artists can be shown, and seen by the public. The Clairhorne Galleries, at 243 Washington Street, Newton Corner, is combining the functions of art gallery and gift shop. Each artist's work will be exhibited for a period of one month. Local artists are invited to submit samples of their work and to make arrangements for exhibitions.

Visitors will find, in addition to the exhibitions, a most unusual shop. Here are displayed the "one of a kind" and the distinctive gifts which make shopping a pleasure, whether one is looking for something unusual to give away, or something out of the ordinary for their own home.

The ivy papered walls, the windows filled with examples of early American and pattern glass, the color scheme of soft gray and white, with touches of brilliant scarlet, all combined to give a comfortable and homelike atmosphere where one may make purchases, far removed from the crowds and inconveniences of in-town stores.

At present, the Clairhorne Galleries are featuring an exhibition of the pastel paintings of flowers, by Emma Bailey Fraser of Newton. Mrs. Fraser has long been recognized as one of the outstanding flower painters of the country, and her work combines a softness of treatment and a fidelity of draftsmanship that combine to make her pictures popular everywhere. In this exhibition she is showing a number of her new works. Of

Journalists Assoc. in Membership Drive

The Boston Veteran Journalists' Benevolent Association, Inc. which recently held its annual reunion in Boston, is making a special effort this year to complete its membership card index and, to that end, is seeking the names and present addresses of men or women who have had journalistic connection with Boston newspapers up to or since 1927.

Persons with 20 years or more Boston newspaper service are automatically eligible. The connection may have been prior to or since 1927.

Editors, reporters, special writers, district reporters are included, whether now active or retired, or now engaged in other professions.

Any who do not already receive the annual reunion notices are invited to communicate with Gardner Campbell, Secretary, Wakefield Daily Item, giving a brief record of past or existing eligibility.

Officers for 1947 include Harry B. Turner, publisher of the Nantucket Inquirer and Mirror, as president, and Walter F. Carley of Wakefield, publisher of the Boston Post, as vice-president.

particular interest is a painting of purple and yellow iris, tastefully arranged in a low Chinese Bowl. Her picture of apple blossoms in a green pottery vase is also excellent.

Other pictures in the exhibition are "Yellow Roses", "Geraniums on Window Sill", "Marigolds", "Petunias", "White Roses", as well as her famous chalcidee paintings.

The exhibition will continue through the month of December.

Auburndale Woman's Club Xmas Program

"Christmas Through the House" will be the theme taken by Mrs. Walter Ewart Murphy, art chairman of the Auburndale Woman's Club, in a demonstration of the use of Christmas greens and decorations, at the clubhouse, Tuesday, December 9 at 3 o'clock. The regular business meeting, to be conducted by the president, Mrs. Darragh L. Higgins, will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Arrangements keyed to the holiday season, for tables, fireplace mantels, hallway and doors will be described and demonstrated by Mrs. Murphy, assisted by Mrs. Albert Terkelsen, and clubwomen and their guests will get many ideas to put to practical use.

This program will be the only one during December.

As an adjunct to Mrs. Murphy's talk music of the holiday season will be presented by Miss Nancy McGowan, soprano, who will sing "Ave Maria" and "Cantata Noel"; Miss Lois Ufford will play Rubenstein's "Melody in F" and an arrangement by Paul Herfurth of "At Christmaside." Miss Joy Ufford will accompany on the piano.

Tea will be served after the meeting by the tea hostess, Mrs. Ray N. Simpson, assisted by the Mesdames: Earl H. Ordway, Keith C. Parris, James G. Patterson, Benjamin W. Pepper, Henry L. Sawyer, Ralph H. Seaman, Arthur L. Shaw and James K. Simms.

Kiwanis Club

Rev. Alan L. Blacklock, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Waltham, past president of the Waltham Kiwanis Club, the Club's secretary for the past several years and president-elect of the Waltham Minister's Association, addressed the Newton Kiwanis Club, at its noon meeting, Wednesday, at the Y. M. C. A.

Minister of his church for the past 24 years, the longest in point of service of any denominational minister in his city, Rev. Blacklock earnestly advised Newton's Kiwanians to always remember: "Don't Let Your Dreams Die." Speaking of his own personal experiences and the lessons of life, he added that "A winner never quits...a quitter never wins. He quits just when he should begin..."

In his youth, the speaker continued, neighbors on the farm next to his father's raised pigeons. Intrigued and loving the crooning birds, his brother and himself asked their father's permission to construct openings in the barn loft and build nests inside, so's to provide a home for wild, free pigeons. Permission eventually granted, everything was put in readiness for the birds, but never, he declared, did a pigeon take advantage of the accommodations during his residence there...

Thirty five years later, however, during a visit to the old homestead, Rev. Blacklock continued, it was a source of great satisfaction to observe the great flocks of pigeons that had, at long last, made their homes and raised their families in the long prepared loft in the old barn...

"Don't let your dreams die," he advised again, "Remember, The Pigeons Came."

Assisting the Club in celebrating his birthday, Jack Janse sang a song and told of the manner in which he bagged himself a deer with his three barreled shotgun. Carl Alvord and P. Pettin-gill sang a duet, the song written by Robert Wilcox, Frank Bottles in Mr. Janse's honor...Leo Noel, president of the Waltham Kiwanis Club, George T. Hutchings of Wellesley Kiwanis, William H. Wragg, Newton Centre and F. C. Haubert were guests of the Newton Club at this meeting...Program Chairman Albert Gagne announced that John H. Walsh, manager of the Middlesex and Boston Street R. R. will be next week's speaker.

Lasell Junior College

On Saturday afternoon, December 6, from three to five o'clock in Winslow Hall at Lasell Junior College in Auburndale, the newly organized Greater Boston Alumnae Chapter of the college will hold its first social event—a Silver Tea. Pourers will be Mrs. Raymond C. Wass, wife of Lasell's President, and Mrs. Charles Higgins, President of Lasell Alumnae, Inc.

Christmas music will be featured by the Lasell Chorus, under the direction of Miss Persis Kempton, and there will be organ music played throughout the afternoon.

President of this new organization is Mrs. A. Stanley Bowering of Quincy; Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur C. Rodgers of Melrose; Secretary, Mrs. William T. Van Huysen of Weston; Treasurer, Mrs. Paul G. Black of Jamaica Plain; and Alumnae, Inc. Advisor, Miss Phyllis Shoemaker of Boston.

About one thousand alumnae from a twenty-five mile area around Boston are expected to attend. A short business meeting will precede the tea at two-thirty.

On Thursday, November 27, a Thanksgiving dinner party was held in the dining room of Bragdon Hall for those students who did not go home for the holiday. Guest of Honor was Mrs. Frederick Plummer of Auburndale, who donated the Nellie Plummer Library to the college.

On Wednesday evening, December 3, the Lasell French Club will sponsor two French movies "La Maternelle" and "Un Grand Verrier".

On Thursday, December 4, Mr. Everett E. Thompson of the E. C. Merriam Company, Springfield, will speak to the students on the subject "New Words and Old and How the Dictionary is Made".

The Newton Nutrition Center and The Citizens Food Committee Suggest:

A "PEACE PLATE" FOR TODAY
Save Wheat! Save Meat! Save the Peace!
FRIDAY PEACE PLATE

What's high in protein and a good source of minerals and vitamins? Fish, of course, and today's mainstay dish suggested by the Consumer Service Section, Citizens Food Committee, invites the use of almost any kind of canned or cooked fish in a savory pie blanketed with well-seasoned mashed potatoes.

Tempting and colorful contrast for Fish Pie with Potato Crust may be diced beets in sour cream or in a sour-sweet sauce. Complete the picture with a salad of plump, plitted cooked prunes, stuffed with cottage cheese and chopped celery, arranged on salad greens and served with a favorite dressing.

Three special talking points for the baked dessert, Apricot Crisp Pudding: So good to eat; makes use of any left-over bread, and canned apricots are in good supply.

Fish Pie With Potato Crust
2 tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup milk
2 cups cooked, flaked fish
¾ cup cooked or canned peas
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced green pepper (optional)
1 cup well-seasoned mashed potatoes

Melt fat in saucepan, stir in flour, salt, and pepper and blend. Add milk gradually, while stirring, and cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add fish, peas, onion, and green pepper and heat thoroughly. Place in greased baking dish or casserole and cover with mashed potatoes. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. 4 servings.

Apricot Crisp Pudding
¾ cup butter or fortified margarine
½ cup sugar
4 cups bread cubes or crumbs
2 cups diced apricots and juice (peaches or pineapple may be substituted)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Cream together butter and sugar. Add bread cubes to cream mixture. Blend well. Mix fruit and lemon juice with bread mixture. Pour into greased individual baking dishes and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 35 minutes. Garnish with apricots and whipped cream, if desired. Serve hot. 6 servings.

Food Tip: Store both crackers and cookies in airtight tins, jars, or boxes. Do not store them with bread as they will absorb moisture and lose their crispness.

Real Estate News

Paul Harris Drake reports the sale of a large home-site in the "A" Zone, consisting of over 15,000 square feet of land at the North-west corner of the intersection of Mamadnock road and Hammondwood road, Chestnut Hill, Newton, on the former Liggett estate. Mrs. Louise H. Campbell et al of 87 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, conveyed title to Ida Schwartz of Brookline, who will improve the premises by the erection of a modern brick, ranch-type residence under the supervision of David J. Abrahams, architect, of Boston.

Alvord Bros., Realtors, report the sale of the frame single house and detached two-car garage with 17,272 feet of land at 151 Allerton road, in Newton Highlands. Title passed from Charles J. Brown to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Knight of Dorchester.

Another recent Alvord Bros. sale is that of the well-situated small frame house, consisting of two-car garage, and play house on 27,383 feet of land at 62 Windsor road in Waban. Mr. Willibrod L. Bensdorf bought from Irwin A. and Marion V. Decker.

John T. Burns & Sons Inc. report that final papers have been passed in the conveyance of the following parcels of real estate:

Five and one-half acres of land located on Lexington and River streets in the West Newton section has been sold for the Mague Estate to George LaConte.

In the Chestnut Hill district Burns office has sold the single frame residence situated at 329 Ward street to Shirley Halperin. Title was conveyed by M. S. Kimball, Exec.

The property numbered 64 Larchmont road, Waban, has been sold by Charles M. and Bernice L. Pierson to Maurice S. Herbert. This is a brick and frame Dutch Colonial type home.

Sales reported by Howe Associates include lot of land on Converse avenue, Newton, comprising 8,854 square feet with a frontage of about 73 feet. William J. McGrath gave title to Bernardo Corsi; property at 273 Upland avenue, Newton Highlands sold for William R. and Inis M. Stevenson to Ralph W. and Fannie A. Cessna. This parcel comprises 19,185 square feet of nicely landscaped grounds, together with single new frame Colonial of seven rooms, two baths and two-car garage.

Home Associates have also sold for Charles D. Train, Inc., the Stanley M. Freeman of Marblehead, the property located at 4 Sylvan road, Waban, Mass., comprising 10,208 square feet and new Colonial of seven rooms, two and a half baths and two car garage.

Bits from Bigelow

Bigelow Defeats Weeks

The heavyweight game between Bigelow and Weeks was won by Bigelow, 13 to 0. The star was Daniel Coffey with two touchdowns, seven first downs, and eight tackles. Coffey scored the first touchdown through a hole in the line opened by John Ricci and Marty Gardner. The extra was then booted by Gardner. The second touchdown Coffey scored was an end sweep around the left side. The lineup was as follows:

Lightweights Lose Again
The lightweights were defeated by Weeks, 6 to 0. Weeks made their touchdown in the first quarter but missed the extra point. The lineup for the Bigelow lightweights was as follows:

If you should see a group of girls hurrying toward the gym on Tuesday mornings, don't be alarmed, as it is only the Leader Corps girls. When Leader Corps first started, the eighth and ninth grade girls played basketball. The seventh grade girls did not come to the gym, as they had not been selected. In a little basketball tournament between the eighth and ninth grade Leader Corps girls, the eighth grade leads with two wins, one loss, and they have tied one game. The ninth grade has won one game, lost two, and have tied one. After about three or four meetings of the Leader Corps the seventh grade girls joined in sports and they, so far, have taken part in the game of 21, since they do not know how to play basketball.

Isabelle Overlock reports, "Every Tuesday and Thursday noons there is a period in the art room under the supervision of Miss Heloise Chase. This is for the use of pupils who are working on extra art projects. Some of the projects being carried on now are posters, social studies diagrams, stencils to decorate the walls of the Activity Room and math projects. The people that attended the Art Activity period on Tuesday, Nov. 18, are Nancy Cummings, Connie Green, Lee Johnson, Diane Emerson, Phyllis Kendig, Carol Webster, Jean Hart, Lola Butler, Isabelle Overlock and Arlene Schwartz."

Seventh grade homeroom 213 presented a seven act play for Thanksgiving entitled "The Courtship of Miles Standish," which they had adapted from Longfellow's poem. The characters were Miles Standish, John Alden, Priscilla, the council of five, a messenger, the minister, and Indians. It was well presented and enjoyed by all.

The most practical and interesting place in the Bigelow Junior High School is its library. This library is a great advantage to those who live a long distance from their own public libraries and to those who can use it during school hours. It is located on the second floor above the office and is about the size of an ordinary classroom. It has three walls lined with bookcases. This library is especially proud of its four sets of encyclopedias, many history books, both the United States and foreign, and books on numerous subjects; it also has a splendid set of National Geographic which have

Katherine Zipp reports, "Last Friday the four eighth grade classes listened to Mrs. Tashjian, a librarian from the Boys' and Girls' Library, tell them about the new books in the library. There are many new books which have been reserved through Book Week and may now be taken out. Some of these are 'The Story of Christina,' 'Four Young Teachers,' 'Strikeout Young.' She explained that the library is not being used enough and that junior high school boys and girls are not reading enough. This talk was very interesting and encouraging."

Last year the Bigelow Junior High School bought a projector. We have had many interesting movies. These help in science, social studies and are used for assemblies. The man that has been showing the boys about the running of the projector is Mr. Alan Kempainen. In the eighth grade there are eight projection operators who are David Segel, Harry Riddle, Allen Salt, Victor Ginsberg, Sol Cohen, Frank Avantiaggio, Donald French, and Joseph Paolietti. The ninth runs the seventh and the ninth grade movies. The ninth grade projection operators are Jerome Sheffer, William Leonard, Robert Larsen, John Bibbo, Richard Kendig, Charles Ricci, John Shannon and John Ricci.

At the Student Council meeting on Monday, Nov. 24, there was passed to each person a piece of paper, on which he was asked to write what kind of assemblies he wanted after the December vacation, so that the president might assemble the information and report later.

Mr. Pray expressed to the Council his appreciation of the way the beanie and bus tickets were being sold by the vice president of the Council. He also asked how discussion in the homeroom was working out. It was reported as satisfactory.

The representatives said that the school did not want a homeroom paper but that one homeroom had suggested a yearbook. The Council approved of this idea. It was proposed that instead of having a newspaper we clip the reports out of the regular newspapers and pin them on the bulletin board.

The discussion came up again about class officers. The homerooms had suggested that they be on the Council, speak for their drives we might have, and run the social periods. Mr. Pray suggested that the committee, Barbara Larsen, Lee Johnson, Alan Salt, and Frank Avantiaggio, write letters to the advisors of the three grades at the other junior high schools in order to find out the duties of the officers elsewhere. Later they plan to visit one of these schools. When the problem of dancing on Friday noon for the ninth grade was re-opened, the Council found the fact that both the Assembly Crew and the Student Patrol meet on Friday interfered with any such plan.

Dexter Lewis reports, "Here is a typical Leader Corps program. We go down to the gym on Tuesday morning and practice basketball. We sometimes have games. When about three quarters of the period is over we sit in an even line across the gym. Mr. Arderton gives a talk about some of the things we should look out for, while in the gym. A few of them are:

1. Do not bounce the basketball on the floor if you are trying to hit the ceiling.
2. Keep the boys quiet while someone is talking. These things are of great importance, because you can ruin the basketballs by hitting them on the floor very hard. It is also discourteous to talk when someone else is speaking."

SCHOOLBOY SPORTS

By WALLY STRATHERN, JR.

Review of Football Season

Well, Newton High School's 1947 football season is a thing of the past now, and incidentally we are not too proud of it. Last year the Tiger Eleven lost nine of its ten tangles. The only team Newton could knock off last year was Belmont and Belmont had a "tuff" time of it all season.

This year our high school team seemed to have more spark in it than it had in the preceding season. The hopes of Newton fans were high during the first three weeks of the grid season when Newton took the Arlington "Spy Ponders" 13-6. Newton's Joe Seichlone and Donny Collins racked up all of our thirteen points, Arlington's Dick Raia rushed to "pay dirt" for Arlington's lone six points.

We have had many interesting movies. These help in science, social studies and are used for assemblies. The man that has been showing the boys about the running of the projector is Mr. Alan Kempainen. two fast skaters in Bill Fitzpatrick and Buddy Keefe. Both of very good stick handlers and capable hockey players. As for Donny Collins he is fast and tricky and is a good shot.

Here is your schedule for this coming season:
1947-1948 Newton High School Hockey Schedule

They tipoff Klu Saturday, Dec. 6—Melrose vs. Newton at Boston Garden. Saturday, Dec. 13—Newton vs. Stoneham at Boston Garden. Saturday, Dec. 20—Belmont vs. Newton at Boston Arena. Saturday, Jan. 3—Cambridge vs. Newton at Boston Arena. Saturday, Jan. 10—Newton vs. Medford at Boston Arena. Saturday, Jan. 17—Rindge vs. Newton at Boston Garden. Saturday, Jan. 24—Arlington vs. Newton at Boston Arena.

Play-offs and state championship contests will follow after January 24th.

Newton's All-Scholastic End
Newton High School is quite honored and proud that Bob MacConnell was chosen the best right end in the state. Each year, as you know, the Boston sport writers pick an all-scholastic team consisting of the boys that they consider the most capable of holding down the positions that they play from their respective high schools. Last year Bob was a runner-up for the all-scholastic football team and this year without much question and debating he was given the first string berth. Bob is an excellent passer, pass receiver and punter. He has been amazing the sports writers with his exceptionally long kicks. Nice going, Mac.

Basketball
This year's basketball is too new yet to have much news about it but we can say that the Newton "Hoop Squad" promises to be as good or better than ever. Coach Reginald Smith, who last year was an assistant coach, has quite a few veterans of last year working out for him. More than anything we are going to miss Rod Jennings, last year's highest scorer in every game. Rod had the combination of height and ability that is a valuable asset in any basketball squad. Bob MacConnell, Newton's star guard man of last year, is back again at the right guard spot. Frank Tanner and Joe Landry, both of the football squad, have been out to practice since Monday. Nick Lupi and Louis Antonellis show promise for the first team.

I know that many of you readers will want to attend some of Newton's "hoop meets" so here is the schedule for you to go by:

1947-1948 Newton High School Basketball Schedule
Jan. 6, Tuesday—Newton at Watertown
Jan. 9, Friday—Rindge at Newton
Jan. 14, Wednesday—Thayer at Newton
Jan. 16, Friday—Waltham at Newton
Jan. 20, Tuesday—Newton at Brookline
Jan. 28, Wednesday—Newton at Cambridge
Jan. 30, Friday—Watertown at Newton
Feb. 3, Tuesday—Newton at Rindge
Feb. 6, Friday—Open
Feb. 11, Wednesday, Cambridge at Newton
Feb. 13, Friday—Newton at Waltham
Feb. 17, Tuesday—Newton at Arlington
Feb. 20, Friday—Brookline at Newton

Hockey
From last year's hockey squad we are very fortunate in having three first string men back again this year. They are Donny Collins, center; Billy Fitzpatrick, right wing; and Capt. Buddy Keefe, left defense.

So far this year, in scrimmages, the varsity squad has been fairly victorious. They scrimmaged Melrose and won. Next they met Rindge and again they won. When they scrimmaged Stoneham, Newton lost by one goal.

Mr. J. C. Hall is head hockey manager. He is taking over Mr. Evan Johnson's position of last year. Mr. Johnson is now Recreation Director for the city. The Newton hockey squad has

Newtonville Man Claims Uncle Sam No Bachelor

Many Newton residents will recall an interesting debate which occupied some little space in the Boston papers during the month of October. It revolved around the question of whether or not our famous Uncle Sam was, in reality, a bachelor. The National Institute of Artists and Photographers had been attempting to get the rapidly ageing Uncle Sam a wife to comfort him in his old age.

At this point, Linden Ivan Petty's of 19 Elmwood Park, Newtonville entered the picture. He told a reporter that he had dug up a poem in the medical library of a Revolutionary War doctor which depicted the white-haired Uncle of all Americans as the husband of an unidentified woman and as the Father of the original thirteen states, to say nothing of George Washington, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.

Accordingly, if we should now unite in presenting Uncle Sam with an Aunt Martha, for example, it would be most difficult to predict the future of the happy couple.

The poem runs as follows:—"You've heard of Uncle Sam, I guess, 'with all his curious trades and notions,

"He's a merchant, tailor, runs a press and sails his boats on lakes and oceans.
"And when injured he don't care a damn, for all the world that's Uncle Sam."
"He married young and soon counted on daughters full of bakers' dozen."

"Although in debt, to great amount, for kipping John, his German cousin,
"His eldest son—'s George—backed by a French boy young and tender,
"Marched to the South from Valley Forge and made a host of rogues surrender."

"But John, his second son was always deemed a wonderful scholar,
"Though Tom, when all was said and done, could beat the other boys all hollow."

"For once he wrote while yet at school a piece he called the Declaration,
"Which made John Bull look like a fool, because it kind of touched his reputation."

This poem came into Mr. Petty's possession when he purchased the library of Dr. Henry F. Campfield, a Civil War surgeon on the Union side, some thirty-five years ago. It is supposed to have been written by the doctor's Grandfather, Dr. Jabez Campfield, a surgeon in Col. Oliver Spencer's regiment in the Continental Army in 1777.

Any doubting Thomases are herewith assured that Mr. Petty's has on file certified statements from eminent authorities vouching for the authenticity of both poem and contents.

F. A. Day Jr. High "News of the Day"

The annual Thanksgiving assembly was given on Wednesday morning under the direction of Mrs. Lorraine Holmes and Miss Mary Gianfrante with Mr. Vincent Jurglewicz leading the orchestra for entrance and exit marches as well as leading the school in the singing of "America the Beautiful" and the "Thanksgiving Hymn". Elizabeth White of Grade Nine opened the assembly by leading the school in the flag salute after which she spoke briefly but pointedly on the observance of Thanksgiving in other countries and the meaning of Thanksgiving to Americans this year. George Guzz of Grade Eight read the Governor's Thanksgiving Proclamation and Deborah Harvey recited the poem "Every Day Thanksgiving Day". The assembly closed with a choral reading of "The Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers" by 8-1-B lead by Anna DeLuca and trained by Miss Mary G. Gianfrante.

On Tuesday Daniel Lewin, Carol Bram, and Harold Murphy attended a meeting of the Junior Red Cross Inter-school Council of which Dan Lewin is president. The Day Junior High School was the only school to report 100% enrollment in the Junior Red Cross Drive and Dan ranked first among all the junior high schools in Newton in per capita giving. As we approach our twenty-fifth anniversary, this is another indication that Day is the leading junior high school in Newton. Our three representatives together with Miss Mary Gianfrante and Mr. Alden Read are to be congratulated on leading our drive to a most successful conclusion.

The evening program for the 25th Anniversary celebration will include several orchestra selections under the direction of Mr. Jurglewicz, a greeting from Principal Ralph H. Morse, several alumni speakers, Alice Birmingham Colburn, Grace Swann, and Raymond Holmes. Chalon Carnahan and Daniel Lewin will give the history of Day Junior High School and Nancy Hood and Gladys Harrison the story of the junior high school movement.

Various alumni from Day, Lorraine Arcese, Larry Mastromattei, Victor Incorvati, Daniel Abbott, and others will entertain. Also Mr. Harold Jobs, President of the Day School Parent Teachers Association will speak on P. T. A. activities.

Newton High School
A new organization "The Future Teachers of America," is soon to be represented in Newton High School under the sponsorship of Miss Edith M. Rideout of the English department.

The first move of the club, now that it has the required number of members, will be to draw up a charter which the legislature of the school will act upon.

This opportunity will be given these young people to discover the good and bad points of teaching. There will be chances for members to visit kindergarten, grammar and high schools, and even colleges, perhaps, in order to observe the various methods and levels of teaching. The members may participate in the Student Honor System.

The purpose of such an organization is to bring before high schoolers, at a time when they are making their decisions concerning the future, the opportunities of a teaching profession. Under the Future Teachers program it is possible for the young person, who upon entering high school makes his decision to be a teacher, to have a year of preliminary preparation as a senior as well as four years of definite training during college years for professional leadership.

The Future Teachers of America movement grew out of the Horace Mann Centennial in 1937, and has been developed by the National Education Association. Each F. T. A. member is a junior member of the National Education Association.

The organization is based upon the important fact that the future of mankind is the youth of today. It offers young people activities through which they can better themselves and look forward to useful careers of teaching. The name, Future Teachers of America, shows clearly that the youth of today care about the welfare of the nation as a whole. The organization makes use of the motivating power of a nationwide outlook and a lifelong purpose. The improving of the quality of American life will be its aim. It offers and excellent chance for those who wish to serve others.

ADELE ADDISON
Adele Addison to Appear on Highland Glee Club Program

The Highland Glee Club will be heard in the first of its two regular subscription concerts on Monday evening, Dec. 8th at 8:15 in the Newton High School Auditorium.

The club is proud to present as soloist Miss Adele Addison, talented young negro soprano whose great natural gift for song and artistic presentation have recently aroused great enthu- siasm among music critics where- ever she has appeared. In bring- ing her to Newton the Glee Club believes it is giving its audience an opportunity to hear an artist whose fame will soon reach na- tion wide proportions. Miss Addi- son's program will be:

I. Air de Lia (L'Enfant Prodi- ge) Debussy
II. The Traveler I. Heilner
Love's Lantern H. N. Switten
Who is Dat Yondah (Arr) H. T. Burleigh
Let Us Break Bread Together (Arr) W. Lawrence

A most satisfying program of songs has been prepared by the men of the club under the direc- tion of D. Ralph MacLean who is celebrating his 25th year of leadership. Among the songs new to the club's repertoire will be "Sunsets" from a poem by Carl Sandburg set to music by E. Lang who will be present for the occasion. Also new to the club is an English setting of the power- ful "Dein Rath ist wohl gut" by Edvard Grieg, a beautiful "Fin- nish Lullaby" by Selim Palmgren and a humorous Missou- ri folk song "The Dead Old Woman" by Katherine Davis. A fea- ture of the evening will be the Christmas Anthem "O Magnum Mysterium" by Jacob Handl sung in Latin by a double chorus of men. The concert will conclude with the singing of unusual Christmas carols and the "Halle- lujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

Information concerning asso- ciate memberships can be obtain- ed from Mr. Gustav Breitkre, LA. 7-6836. Individual tickets will be available at the door.

Miss Fisher at 4-H Congress in Chicago

Miss Virginia Fisher of New- tonville, a volunteer leader at the Rebecca Penroy House, a Red Feather Agency, is in Chicago this week having been chosen a delegate to the National Con- gress of 4H Clubs.

Miss Fisher has been a mem- ber of 4H Clubs for eight years and has done outstanding work in them. This past spring she won a blue ribbon at the Penroy House for a suit outfit which she made. This was shown in Con- cord. Girl's Day where it won another blue ribbon and she was chosen to go to Amherst to com- plete for State Honors. Her good work then won her a trip to Chicago to enter the National Con- test.

Miss Fisher now is a leader of a group of little girls who meet weekly at the Penroy House in a 4H Sewing Club. She is teach- ing them the art in which she has been so interested as to make it her life's work.

F. A. Day Junior High Anniversary

In December 1922 the Frank A. Day Junior High School in Newton opened its doors as the first junior high school in Newton and one of the first ones in New England. Under the prin- cipalship of Mr. Frank F. Carr and the guidance of a group of specially selected teachers the Day Junior High School was recog- nized in 1927 according to the "Literary Digest" as the best of its type in New England.

Now 25 years later this school is celebrating its first quarter century of achievement in a special afternoon and evening pro- gram on Friday, December 5th. In the afternoon there will be a reception and tea for the elemen- tary teachers in the Day district, former teachers, the administra- tion and invited guests. The evening program is intended chiefly for Day alumni and all former pupils are urged to attend. There will be a movie taken in the early days of the school, a history of Day, a Parent Teacher Associa- tion presentation, a history of the junior high school movement, music, and other features.

Present Day pupils will aid in all phases of the program. The faculty committee is under the co- chairmen, Mr. Addison Cowles and Mrs. Lois Vuyayovich, and is made up of the following faculty members: Mrs. Lorraine F. Holmes, Miss Joline Bonin, Miss Louise C. Paul, Miss Helen Spelman, and Mr. Edwin Frye. The newly elected president of the Day Parent Teachers Association Mr. Harold Jobs is in close touch with the celebration through his steering committee Mrs. Anthony Arcese, Mrs. Thomas Cleveland, and Mrs. Maurice Strauss.

Harvey C. Wheeler

Harvey Carl Wheeler, president of the New England Towel Sup- ply Company, died on Wednes- day, December 3, at his home, 69 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill. Mr. Wheeler was in his 87th year. In his youth he worked as a telegraph operator for the Western Union. He was a pioneer in the towel business which he established 60 years ago. Besides heading the New England Towel Supply companies he was presi- dent of the United Water Cooler Service. He had been active in business until he became ill about eight weeks ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ger- trude A. Wheeler, a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice O'Connor of Miami, Florida, a brother, Griffith A. Wheeler of West Palm Beach, Florida, six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

—On October 13, 1775, Congress voted to establish a committee to handle Naval affairs. This body, called the Marine Committee, and composed of three members, was the forerunner of the present Navy Department.

Announcement

It is with profound sorrow that we announce the passing of our President Clarence J. Hutchings.

His loss is keenly felt by the family and the business to which he had devoted his life's work.

In the tradition of the Hutchings Family, the business of the Newton Memorial Art Co. will continue as heretofore, its proud record of service and achievement, still in the owner- ship, control and management of his family, his mother, his widow and myself, his brother and business associate for twenty-five years.

RECENT DEATHS

Lt. Frederick J. Egan

Lt. Frederick J. Egan, Jr. of 49 Southgate Park, West New- ton, veteran of World War II who served with the Marine Air Corps, was killed Sunday when his plane crashed within 10 miles of his airport at Cherry Point, North Carolina. He had been a week-end guest of his sister, Mrs. Robert B. Crocker, Jr. of East Longmeadow and had taken off from the Springfield Airport on the return flight to his base.

Lt. Egan was in his 28th year. He entered the Navy in Novem- ber 1941 and in February 1944 transferred to the Marine Air Forces. During the war he served in the Pacific area and a year ago transferred to the regu- lar Marine Corps. He was gradu- ated from the Newton High School in 1938 and before enter- ing the Navy had been employed by the Zenith Products Com- pany in West Newton.

He was the son of the late Frederick J. and Elizabeth (Mc- Donald) Egan. His father died on May 8 of this year. Lt. Egan leaves three sisters, Mrs. Robert B. Crocker, Jr. of East Longmeadow, Mrs. Roland Herber and Miss Dorothy Egan of West Newton, and a brother James Egan of East Longmeadow.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning. A solemn requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Bernard's Church, West Newton at 9:30. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Friends may call at the John J. MacDonnell Funeral Home, 749 Main street, Waltham Fri- day, visiting hours from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10 p.m.

Linda Cappuccio

Mrs. Linda Cappuccio (nee Bassi), beloved wife of Ulisse Cappuccio, died on December 1 at the age of 75 after a short ill- ness.

Mrs. Cappuccio resided with her daughter Vanda C. Anse- lino, and Olga Cappuccio Spears at 141 Carleton street, Brookline. Prior to coming to stay with her daughters she had been a life-long resident of West Med- ford. Surviving are her son Eugene who is on his way from Caracas, Venezuela, and expected to arrive here Wednesday, her daughter Ascanio Cardarelli, Vanda C. Anselino, Olga Cap- puccio Spears, all of Brookline; Mrs. Clifford Heath of Phoenix, Arizona, and Mrs. Michael Di- Gregorio of Boston.

Six grandchildren survive, Ar- nold Cardarelli, Mrs. Leland Stanley, William C. Spears, Linda Van Voorhees, Reynold V. Anselino and Barbara J. Ouellette.

The funeral was held Thurs- day from the Chapel of F. T. O'Day, Brookline, with Requiem High Mass at St. Aidan's church. Interment was at Holy Cross cemetery, Malden.

Charles W. Coe

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Short & Williamson Chapel, Allston for Charles W. Coe, well-known Boston public accountant. Rev. Ashley Day Leavitt of the Harvard Church, Brookline officiated. Burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

Mr. Coe died on Wednesday, November 26 at his home, 350 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Jane Smith Coe.

Can The United Nations Do The Job?

By Laurence M. Lombard

(This is the third of a series of articles which the Newton Graphic is running on various phases of world government in the hope of stimulating interest and discussion on this vital subject.)

History teaches us that in the past the only way competing sovereign units have been able to avoid wars has been by creating a superior government—a higher social unit to which each of the competing sovereign units transferred some of their sovereign powers.

The suggestion was made that since we are now threatened with a continuation of wars between sovereign nation states, we should consider establishing a superior law—with all nations transferring to a superior government the power to enforce laws necessary to prevent wars.

The question naturally arises as to whether the United Nations constitutes such a superior government?

The very first purpose of the Charter is "To maintain international peace and security, and to that end: to take effective collective measures for the prevention and removal of threats of peace, and for the suppression of acts of aggression..." Nothing could be more specific than this language, and if these purposes could be carried out, we need have no more concern. Why won't the United Nations do the job?

To answer these questions requires some consideration of the fundamentals of government and of the words we use—such as "government," "leagues," and "collective security."

First, what do we mean by government? Government implies law. It implies the power of making laws; the legislative power, the power of carrying out, of executing laws; the executive power; and the power of interpreting the laws and punishing violators; the judicial power. While these powers exist in different forms in different governments, all three elements must be present. Also, for successful government the laws must apply directly to the individual citizens and punishments must be enforceable directly upon the individual citizens.

To understand the truth of these statements all we need do is check them against the operation of our town government, our state government and our national government.

We know that our national government is a federal government. That is, we, the people, have given many powers to our state governments which are sovereign in many respects. But we have also given some powers to the national government—powers over matters which are of general concern to people in all states and which can be more effectively handled through the single national government.

But there is one characteristic of our national government which is really quite extraordinary but to which we are so accustomed that we take it for granted. That is the fact that while the states are all powerful and are sovereign in many respects, the national government has power directly over the individual citizens in the states in all matters over which it has been delegated authority. The federal laws apply directly to the citizens in each state. If a resident of Massachusetts fails to pay his federal taxes the federal tax collector gets after him directly. If a citizen in Massachusetts violates a federal law, the United States Attorney in Massachusetts may prosecute him in the Federal Court in Massachusetts and the state has nothing to say about it.

Let us suppose the people in the original thirteen colonies had been unwilling to surrender any of their powers to the national federal government, then today we might have a league of sovereign states forming our Federal Government. Suppose the federal Congress were made up of representatives who would be representing the states rather than directly representing the people in the states. While the federal legislature might have power to pass certain laws affecting the states, and these laws might be binding on the states, if the states had been unwilling to surrender their sovereignty their laws would not be directly binding on the individual citizens. Let us consider just how this system would work. Suppose a law was passed by the federal Congress which was unpopular in Massachusetts. Suppose it required money to carry it into effect. If the federal law was not directly binding on the individual citizens, then it would also take a Massachusetts statute to make it work. And if the law was sufficiently unpopular in Massachusetts, probably the Massachusetts legislature would refuse to pass the necessary supporting legislation, even though the states might have agreed in advance to be bound by certain federal laws.

If the state declined to act, the only way to enforce the statute would be by the Federal Government using force against the delinquent state. Such action would be tantamount to war. And if the Federal Government did not have a Federal Army but relied on the militia of the several states, we might have the Federal Government calling on the militia of New York and Pennsylvania to force Massachusetts to come through. This is what is called "collective action" or "collective security."

This is the situation we might have had if the original thirteen colonies had insisted on retaining their complete sovereignty league of sovereign states. It is and had continued in effect, a situation that actually did prevail under the confederacy. All we need to do is to look at the history of that time to realize why such a system cannot work. For a period of seven years after the revolution conditions went steadily from bad to worse. The central government was powerless to raise troops to keep the peace or to raise the necessary revenue to carry on the government. War between the states seemed inevitable, even to such calm minds as Washington and Madison. It was these deteriorating conditions, amounting almost to chaos, which brought our forefathers to a realization of the necessity of giving up certain general power to a true Federal Government.

This difference between a league of sovereign states with no direct power over the individual citizens of those states and a Federal Government with power to enforce its laws against the individuals is important for us to understand. It is at the very essence of the discussions of United Nations v. World Government today. It was clearly understood by those men who drafted our Constitution in 1787, and was discussed at length in the Federalist Papers written at the time. In our next editorial we shall review some of the points made in the Federalist Papers on the weaknesses of leagues of sovereign states.

Route 128 Comm. Meets in Lexington

The Inter-community "Route 128 Committee" met on Monday evening, November 23, in Estabrook Hall, Lexington, to stress the vital urgency of proceeding with the work of relocating that portion of Route 128 between Wellesley and Wakefield. Among those present were a group of State Senators and Representatives from the municipalities involved, committee members, and delegations from Newton, Stoneham, Reading, Wakefield, Woburn, Lexington, Burlington, and Waltham.

The congestion and traffic hazards in all municipalities involved was pointed out, as well as the danger to life and property as shown by accident statistics over a period of years.

The great benefits of the new use of the re-located highway were emphasized as being advantageous both to local business and to all automobile traffic in and about Boston in general. The formation of the committee, the basis of its operation and its plans for the future were outlined. The meeting was then thrown open for general discussion.

How Shell, as a buyer, does business with your neighbors

Including the kitchen sink:

Most of us, asked what an oil company buys, might say: "Trucks... stations... pumps... things like that." Actually, Shell's purchasing list will include almost any article you can name—yes, even kitchen sinks—and buying is nation-wide.

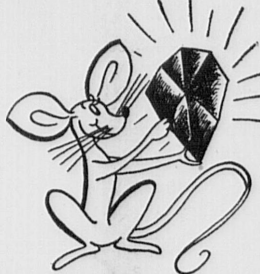

Doctor, lawyer, trainman, too:

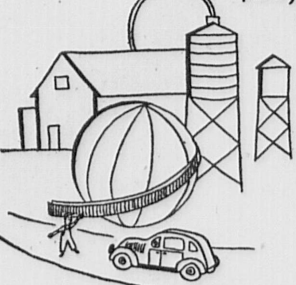

Purchases mean not only things, but services. So Shell buys the services of: construction men and architects... physicians and attorneys... artists and writers. Transportation is a major "buy"—with annual output of one refinery filling a train 1700 miles long.

White mice and black diamonds:

Last year, Shell bought white mice for their laboratories—and industrial diamonds for drilling. On the purchase list you'll find: pins, planes, hair-springs, film, maps, glue, dynamite. Almost every industry and business shares in Shell's purchases.

$13,000,000 at a whack!

That sum, price of a typical "cat" cracking plant, can be called a big "buy"... though complete refineries cost even more. At the other extreme is a little purchase of 1½ yds. of silk ribbon at 17¢. Millions are spent for trucks and transportation. The monthly supply bill at a single Shell refinery averages over a million.

Playing no favorites:

Highly "decentralized," Shell's purchasing department operates widely separated buying offices. So local merchants and manufacturers—in hundreds of communities—share in filling orders. Shell is a member of your community in buying as well as selling.

Taking quality's "measure":

To guide its buyers, Shell has a "Bureau of Standards"—rules determining quality and fair value. Tools and materials purchased must be "just right" for making fine products. So, when necessary, Shell works with manufacturers to help them develop new products or improve old ones.

It's an endless chain:

Every purchase sets a wave in motion. Money spent may be used for the seller's expansion... for new jobs... for salaries. And the salary dollar will go for food... for homes... clothing... and other needs. No dollar ever stands still in our economy. Shell's are at work throughout the nation.

From farmers and factories:

All phases of production—from agriculture to manufacture—get a share in the business. Beet pulp, used in oil drilling, is just as much on the list as such obvious company needs as pencils, paper, ink, typewriters. And don't forget the unusual purchases—from ashtrays to lawnmowers.

By any yardstick, the petroleum industry is a "citizen" of your community... not only sells but buys locally... pays taxes... supports home-town activities and welfare.

GEORGE W. SWEET

"I seem to have spent most of my life working and traveling," says George W. Sweet of 194 Hobart road, Chestnut Hill.

Although Mr. Sweet is known to many in Newton, a civic job he has undertaken without pay may have a great impact on the welfare of every individual in our city. Mr. Sweet is chairman of the Newton Planning Board, appointed by Mayor Paul Goddard. This Board is preparing a recommendation of our first long range planning group for capital expenditures. Its adoption or rejection is up to the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. And whatever they decide about the report will have its effect on Newton's tax rate and valuation of property.

Mr. Sweet is an easy person to see, either at his home or at the main office of the Newton National Bank of which he is president. It takes only a brief talk to reveal him as a man of thoroughness and initiative—an exceedingly rare combination of qualities. He is quiet and observant. His voice is low pitched. His hands make few and controlled gestures, even when lighting a cigarette. His white hair, his ruddy skin, his brown eyes behind shining glasses, his choice conservative gray or blue suits add to create an appearance of distinction.

Inquiring into early life, we learned that he was born George Corey Sweet of English-Welsh descent in Owego, Erie County, N. Y., and was graduated from Owego Academy. But at seven he made up his mind to change his middle name to Worthington, the name of his favorite uncle. And as George W. Sweet he is now known legally. Reminiscing, he also said: "John D. Rockefeller was also born in Owego. I saw him frequently when he came for summer vacations."

The Sweet combination of travel and work may be judged a formula for success, when you delve into his many careers. George Sweet's first job was secretary of the Champion Wagon Co., motor truck manufacturers. He rose to be general manager by 1917 when he entered the war as captain in the Ordnance Department. Discharged as major at the war's end, he returned home and became affiliated with the Studebaker Corporation. For awhile he was its sales manager. He visited every large U. S. city many times, as well as many places in South America, Europe and England.

Then he left to become distributor of Studebaker cars for New England. So 1926 brought him to Newton.

This automobile business expanded until Mr. Sweet had six companies distributing different makes of cars from Boston to Buffalo. Thus he became one of the largest automobile distributors in the country. But ill health brought a desire to contract this business. So at present he retains only the automobile agency in Buffalo.

In 1928 he was among a group of men organizing the Newton National Bank. History repeated itself here as he again rose in rank and responsibility until today he serves as president. The bank's first office is at 384 Centre street, Newton Corner. Due to urgent demands of merchants and others, branch offices have been established in Newtonville and Newton Centre.

When World War II began, George Sweet was urged to accept a commission. Due to an ear injury from the previous war he could not pass the physical examination. Instead, he was persuaded to become Chief of the Tank branch of the Boston Ordnance District. Later he rose to be Executive Officer of the District. And for both jobs well done he holds citations.

Even Mr. Sweet's hobbies are enjoyed with thoroughness. Photography is a year-round enthusiasm. "I've taken all types of black and white as well as color pictures. In the basement," he says, "I set up a complete dark room and enlarging outfit. Then I've studied and collected Oriental rugs."

"And do you have a favorite among the Persian Orientals?" It took him only a moment to reply. "Yes, Feraghans because of the rich design and fine weave."

"Are you a sportsman also?" "Hm, I like to fish for trout and salmon," he said enthusiastically. "I go down East to Maine three times a year. That's the only time I try my hand at cooking, though I like all kinds of food. You might call me only an outdoor cook!"

"And are you a joiner of clubs?" He gave a quick smile. "Oh, yes!" Then he told of belonging to Brae Burn Country Club, the Neighbors Club of Newton Centre, the Newton Rotary Club, the Newton Anglers Club, the Boston Real Estate Board, The Society of Automotive Engineers, the Advisory Board to the Ordnance District Chief. In addition Mr. Sweet is a director of the Boston Army Ordnance Association, the Newton Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Newton Planning Board. Which brings us back, full circle, to the importance of the last-named job he is doing for our city.

"Who else is on the Newton Planning Board?" I asked. "Mayor Goddard appointed the members for 3-year terms. The others are John Kellar, Stanley P. Lovell, Thomas R. King and Harold Buse. Willard Pratt, city engineer, serves as clerk. Harold Young, street commissioner, is the other ex-officio member. We meet at no stated time—often three evenings a week. The idea is to make a 6-year plan but to allow for small changes each year as conditions vary. To my

Windemere Road Residents Protest Removal of Gaslights

The residents of Windemere road, Auburndale met with Mr. Franklin Hoyt, alderman, on Tuesday evening at the Auburndale Club to discuss replacing the gas lights. They feel the present lighting system is quite adequate, and lends a quaint charm to the neighborhood. A committee of four: Mr. Robert Reed, Mr. George H. Davis, Mr. Thomas H. Terrio and Mr. Lyman M. Beggs was appointed to attend a hearing at the City Hall on Friday evening, December 12 to discuss the matter.

300 Attend Christmas Fair in Normandy Room, Auburndale

"Snow Village" the appropriately named Parish Fair held by the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale at the Normandy Room at Norumbega Park last Friday was a great social and financial success in spite of the frightful weather. The goal of $1000 was exceeded by $500 by the enthusiastic workers and members of the Parish and over three hundred braved the storm to hear the Misses Nancy McGowan and Audrey Tracey sing, and to see the Parish models give a sneak preview of the "new look" in a hilarious entertainment staged by Mrs. Eleanor Wood. General Fair Chairman Maurice S. Ricker announces his full staff of helpers as follows:

Show Movies of Harvard-Yale Game at Eliot Men's Club

Another scoop was chalked up for the Eliot Men's Club of Newton when at their meeting on Dec. 8 they had a showing of the movies of the Harvard-Yale football classic of 1947. During the showing of the pictures, a running commentary was given by "Chip" Gannon and Paul Lararo, both stars of the Harvard team.

Arrangements for the evening were made by Mr. Harold Wooster, Newton Librarian and with a very able assist from Professor Arthur Hanson of the Harvard School of Business Administration. Prior to the showing of the pictures an enjoyable dinner was served. The next meeting of the club will be a joint meeting with the "Women's Association" of the Eliot Church on Jan. 6, 1948. Dr. Alden Clark, recently returned from Mexico, will speak on his observations during his stay there.

Morning Musicales Opens Second Season for Newton

Monday morning a scene of festive activity prevailed at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. The occasion was the second all "Newton Morning Musicales" given by the club, under the direction of Mrs. Herbert J. Ham, chairman of music, and sponsored by the music committee.

Musicians from the many Women's Clubs of all the Newtons, Waban and Auburndale were among the enthusiastic audience, enjoying the splendid program presented by the Boston University Choral Art Society, under the direction of Dr. H. Augustine Smith, founder and conductor of the choral group.

Among the guests of honor were Mrs. Ernest A. Hale of Waban, 12th District Director of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Harvey E. Greenwood of Newton, president, who brought a message of peace and hope

W. R. Bauckman Nominated President Board of Aldermen

At a caucus held on Monday night attended by 14 of the present members of the Newton Board of Aldermen and seven members-elect of the 1948 Board, Wendell R. Bauckman of 336 Dedham street, Oak Hill was nominated for President of the 1948 Board and Ernest G. Angevine of 95 Prince street, West Newton was nominated for vice-president.

Mr. Bauckman is at present serving as Alderman-at-large from Ward 5 and Mr. Angevine as Alderman at large from Ward 3.

Election will take place on January 1. All members of the Board of Aldermen and the School committee will be sworn in on that date and after taking his oath of office Mayor-elect Theodore R. Lockwood will deliver his inaugural address.

Handwriting Expert At Newtonville Womens Club

Olive Hanna, handwriting expert, graphologist, artist and lecturer will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon, December 16, at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Hanna will speak on "You and Your Hand-Writing" and her lecture will include an explanation of graphology, blackboard demonstrations of autographs of famous people, and individual analyses of some of the club members.

Tea will be served in the social hall. The purveyors will be Mrs. Harold Billings, Mrs. William Mattson and Mrs. George Abbott.

Dedicate Statue at Church of Our Lady

A statue of Our Lady of Fatima was dedicated on Sunday afternoon and placed as a shrine in the Convent garden of the Church of Our Lady, Newton Sunday afternoon with about 1100 parishioners attending the dedication ceremonies. Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, Chancellor of the Archdiocese, blessed the statue and led the congregation in prayer and invocation to Our Lady of Fatima. Rev. Michael E. Doherty in an acceptance speech thanked the donors, Mr. and Mrs. William Paul of California Street, Newton. Fr. Doherty said that Mr. and Mrs. Paul on noticing the display of Catholic faith on the part of members of Our Lady's football squad as they knelt before a smaller statue of Our blessed Mother before

Auburndale Woman's Club

Taking as her theme "Christmas Through the House", Mrs. Walter E. Murphy, Art Chairman, addressed members of the Auburndale Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon. Assisted by Mrs. Albert B. Terkelsen, she displayed unusual and attractive swags for the front door, showing the use of pine, balsam, spruce and cedar, with berries, pine cones, plastic snow balls and rubberized ribbon as trim. She then toured the home, displaying arrangements for the hall, living and dining rooms. White caryanthemums with red carnations, scotch heather, and flame gladioli with magnolia leaves made gay table decorations. Many other suggestions for holiday decorating were included in the talk.

Miss Nancy McGowan, soprano, Miss Lois Ufford, violinist and Miss Joy Ufford, pianist, entertained with traditional Christmas music.

Mrs. Darragh L. Higgins, President, conducted the business meeting. She asked for contributions for the Pan American Scholarship Fund which provides for the exchange of women students. Mrs. Forrest F. Lange, Chairman of Co-operation with Disabled Veterans, asked for help from members in knitting afghans for Cushing General Hospital. Mrs. E. Graham Bates, Chairman of the Community Service Committee, reported that the training course for sitters has been completed. Forty young women and thirteen older women are now available as sitters. Mrs. Thomas H. Wilson, Drama Committee Chairman, invited members to the reading of "Spring Again" next Tuesday at 1 p.m. Mrs. Frank A. Pinkham was the winner of a cake which was raffled during the meeting.

The lounge and tea table were attractively decorated by Mrs. Ray N. Simpson, tea hostess. Tea and sandwiches were served. Mrs. Austin W. Fisher and Miss Anne E. Bunker, poured.

Community Service Club of W. Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton will observe Presidents' Day at the meeting on Wednesday, December 17, at the Unitarian Parish House.

Members will gather at 1 o'clock for dessert. Mrs. Austin S. Decatur and Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, both former presidents, will pour coffee. Other honored guests will be former presidents: Mrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Mrs. Thomas Weston, Mrs. George S. Fuller, Mrs. Walter S. Ralback, Mrs. William E. Worcester, and Mrs. Clarence M. Glazier.

The Newton Federation will be represented by Mrs. Ernest A. Hale and Miss Estelle Marsh. Mrs. D. Earle Brackett will preside at the meeting which follows the dessert hour, after which Miss Brenda Ericson will entertain with monologues in a Christmas program.

Whiting Chapter D.A.R.

The members of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution with their friends enjoyed a thoroughly delightful morning with Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin, talented and well-known reviewer of books, on Tuesday, December 9th, at the Newton Highlands Workshop. Before Mrs. Rudkin was introduced, coffee was served under the leadership of Mrs. Hartwell W. Blanchard aided by Mrs. Norman Greene, Mrs. James F. Cooper, Mrs. Hollis Vaughan, Mrs. Frank G. Voorhies, Mrs. Arthur S. Berberian, and Mrs. Norman L. Melbye. Miss Mercedes Torr, Regent of the Chapter, poured. A food sale was also conducted by Mrs. Will Laverty assisted by Mrs. Harris W. Langley and Mrs. Sterling Thomas. Mrs. Loren F. Fletcher had charge of the sale of tickets.

Auburndale Review Club

The next meeting of the Review Club of Auburndale will be held on Dec. 16 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Paul H. Tardivel, 59 Maple St. Pursuing the general plan of biographical study, two papers will be presented by members on widely different personalities. One is by Mrs. Grace H. Fiske on Osa and Martin Johnson, travelers and collectors of wild animals in African jungles. The second paper is on Rabbi Stephen Wise, prepared by Mrs. Charles W. Blood. After this meeting there will be a "recess" until Jan. 6 when the annual business meeting is held.

Woman's Club of Newton Highlands

On Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., at the Workshop there will be a "Christmas Program." Miss Brenda Ericson, dramatic reader and monologist will entertain, followed by a musical program and tea.

Waban Woman's Club

Mrs. Adele Hoes Lee, founder of the Bishop-Lee School of the Theatre in Boston and the Nell Gwynn Summer Theatre in the Berkshires, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, Monday, December 15th at 2 p.m. at the Neighborhood Club House. Mrs. Lee is one of the Club's favorite speakers and this is a repeat engagement by request. Whether you are planning a theatre party for the holidays, a trip to New York or wondering what the prospects will be in Boston for the coming season, you will enjoy Mrs. Lee's expert analysis of the current plays.

Mrs. William M. Barber, President of the Club, will preside at the business meeting which precedes the program. Tea will be served following the program and Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford, Social Chairman, has announced that the tea will be in charge of Mrs. Ted H. Oakley and Mrs. Chester L. Heckman.

Waban Catholic Club

Members of the Waban Catholic Club will observe their monthly Communion Sunday on December 21 in St. Philip Neri Church, Waban, at the nine o'clock mass which will be celebrated by Rev. Walter J. Doyle, Director of the Club. Frank Tanner, president, and Frank Roman will be in charge of the ushers.

On Friday, December 19, the Club will sponsor its annual Christmas Party and Dance in the Church Auditorium, and a large attendance is anticipated. The following committees have been appointed: Publicity, Miriam Riley, Don Hernberg, and Frank Tanner; Music, Bill Riley and Jim Doyle; Host and Hostess, Paul Laprise and Marie Woodberry; Tickets, Connie Braggle, Kate Barker, Peter Mesmer, Nancy Woodberry, Joanne Maher, Sally Lane, Dick Ryan, Jane Perry, Marilyn and Frank Tanner; Refreshments, Elinor Ryan, Nancy Perry, Jean Lyons, Dan Egan, and Frank Roman. All high-schoolers are invited to attend this dance, and tickets may be procured from the Ticket Committee or at the door.

Newtonville Junior Woman's Club

The December meeting of the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club will be held on Tuesday evening, December 16, 1947, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House at 6:30 p.m. A buffet supper will be served as a prelude to the club's annual Christmas party. The club members will bring gifts of toys to be distributed among the children at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children.

An effort will be made at this meeting to select a Newtonville Junior as a candidate for the annual travel scholarship contest that is held each spring under the sponsorship of the Junior Department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs. The names of Miss Theodora Klein and Miss Constance Linberg have been proposed for the club's consideration.

At a recent executive board meeting it was announced that the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club is planning to enter the annual play contest of the Junior Federation of Women's Clubs with a play written by two of its own club members, Miss Margo Wolfe and Miss Virginia Connolly.

Newton Centre Garden Club

The Newton Centre Garden Club will hold its annual Christmas party on Tuesday, at the Newton Woman's Clubhouse. Starting at 11 a.m. there will be an exhibition of Christmas decorations for tables, mantels and trees, followed by a social hour.

Mrs. Blanchard Shriner is in charge of the arrangements assisted by Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf, Mrs. Austin Benton, Mrs. Donald J. MacPherson, Mrs. D. Allen Smith, and Mrs. Robert W. Blodgett.

Mrs. A. Harry Hutchison and her committee have charge of the punch bowl. Attractive Christmas greens, trimmings, wreaths and swags will be on sale.

W.C.T.U.

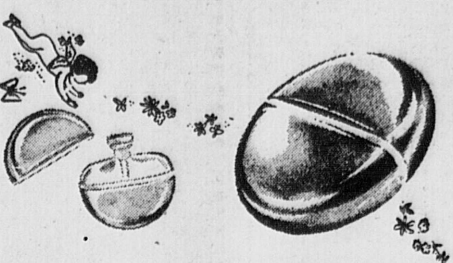

The West Newton W. C. T. U. will hold their regular meeting next Monday evening, at 7:45, at the home of Mrs. Sarah M.

Hovenden, 60 Austin street, Newtonville.

The meeting will be followed by the annual Christmas party with exchange of gifts. Mrs. Florence J. Allen will be the assisting hostess.

H. School Orchestra Presents Concert At Wayland H. S.

A string-woodwind ensemble of the Newton High School Symphony Orchestra, led by its musical director, Mr. Donald March, presented a concert for the pupils of the Wayland High School on Wednesday, December 3, at 9 a. m. in the Wayland High gymnasium. The purpose of the program, arranged by Mr. James Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Public Schools, and Mr. Radcliffe Morrill, principal of Wayland High, was to encourage the Wayland students to form an orchestra of their own.

The program opened with the performance by the string section of the Ballet Music from "Orpheus" by Gluck, music from Handel's opera "Rinaldo," and "Bourree," also by Handel. Following this, the wind instruments played a three-part invention by Bach, specially arranged by Elliot Kaplan. In conclusion, the entire ensemble performed selections from Richard Rodgers' "Connecticut Yankee."

Members of the ensemble were Channing Kempf and Daniel Abbott, first violins; Margaret Allison, second violin; Virginia Benson and Maitora Westermarck, violas; William Bell, cello; Burton Pike, double bass; Paul di Luca and Larry Mastromattei, clarinets; Peter Gavlan, flute; Elliot Kaplan, bassoon; and Judith Mitchell, French horn.

St. Philip Neri Holy Name Society Hears Rev. Edward Ziebell

Theresa Neumann, the Mystic of Konnersreuth" was the subject of Rev. Edward Ziebell's talk at the Annual Communion Breakfast of the Holy Name Society of St. Philip Neri Parish. Naban, held Sunday morning in the Church Auditorium. Father Ziebell has travelled abroad extensively and has seen and talked with Theresa Neumann. He told of interesting conversations with her and of his experiences while visiting Konnersreuth. A discussion period followed during which Father Ziebell answered questions about the mystic.

Over 180 men of the Parish and their guests received Holy Communion at the nine o'clock mass which was offered by Rev. Walter J. Doyle of St. Philip Neri Church. He congratulated the men on their edifying public profession of faith and reminded them that no matter what their positions in the world, whether exalted or humble, to God all eged to receive Holy Communion are of equal value, and at on, in the sight of God all men the altar where each is privileged to receive the Eucharist are equal regardless of wealth or position—or lack of it.

Mrs. John R. Gallagher of Wellesley Hills was the soprano soloist.

William H. Wragg, president of the Society, presided and introduced the head table guests, including Father Ziebell; Rev. Thomas J. McDonough, pastor; Walter J. Doyle; Florin J. Hailer, Rev. Theodore J. Seckel; Rev. Vice President; A. S. Pink, Treasurer; and Bartholomew J. Goran, Secretary. Father McDonough welcomed the guests and outlined the aims of the Holy Name Society as it is conducted in the Waban Parish.

Other honored guests included Herb Kopf, prominent coach and sportswriter, also Bill Riley and Bob Woodberry, the altar boys who served at the monthly Holy Name evening services.

Amesbury Post VFW Observe Pearl Harbor Sunday

On Sunday, December 7, the anniversary of Pearl Harbor, the World War II members of Lt. Stanton M. Amesbury Post, V.F.W. together with the pastors of the Auburndale churches met to hold brief exercises and re-dedicate the World War I Memorial at Nye Park, Auburndale.

Members of the Post met at the Auburndale library and marched to Nye Park where the re-dedication ritual was conducted by Commander Charles F. Kirkpatrick who stated that "Every succeeding generation needs to be reminded that those who served worthily are not forgotten, but live enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen forever."

Prayers were offered by Rev. Stephen J. Callender, Rev. Ralph H. Rogers and Rev. Richard P. McClintock. Rev. Thomas F. Murphy who also was to take part in the ceremony was detained by a previous church service, and arrived as the ceremony was concluded.

The Memorial originally had been erected by an improvement association in Auburndale which is no longer in existence, and during the past 25 years it had been repainted only once 15 years ago when through the efforts of Alderman Arthur A. Hunt, a charter member of Amesbury Post, it was repainted by the city.

Maintenance of the Memorial will now be assumed by the Amesbury Post.

Young Adult Council to Meet At Newton YMCA

The Massachusetts and Rhode Island Young Adult Council will meet at the Newton Y.M.C.A. on Sunday, December 14. This will be the council's first meeting as a co-ed group, under the provisions of a revised constitution.

The program is as follows: 2:30 p.m. arrival, registration, fellowship, and table tennis. The Newton Y.M.C.A.'s co-ed Metropolitan Youth Club will be the hosts.

3:00 p.m. a word of welcome from Alex R. Miller, General Secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. An opening devotional thought will be delivered by Rev. Hamilton M. Gifford, Pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

3:30 p.m. council business session. Plans will be made for the Two State Young Adult conference scheduled for January 31 and February 1 in Worcester.

6:00 p.m. dinner.

7:00 p.m. recreation for those who wish to stay, and the organization of the Two State Phalanx Tribunal.

Former Police Officer To Exhibit Collection

Thomas H. Treddin of 346 Alhermarle Road, Newton, a retired Newton policeman and disabled Army veteran of World War I, will exhibit his unusual collection of 300 personal letters from Divisional Commanding Generals and 450 war time shoulder patches at the Young Men's Christian Association, 276 Church Street, Newton, from December 15 to 19 inclusive. The exhibition will be open to the public in the Colonial Room and Mr. Treddin will be present to personally explain his souvenirs.

Newton Business Leaders in Radio Broadcast

William H. Perry, well-known Newton businessman, and President of the Cambridge Paper Box Co., was heard Sunday, December 7, over Station WNAO, in a broadcast sponsored by the Smaller Business Association of New England, Inc. The subject of the radio forum was, "Credit Financing for Small Business." Four other prominent greater-Boston business executives took part in the program which discussed the bill introduced in Congress by Senator Tobey of New Hampshire and Bill S-1652, introduced by Senator Bridges of the same state, both of which relate to credit financing.

Richard C. Cooke, 240 Otis Street, West Newton, well-known business leader, and publisher of the magazine "Industrial Teamwork" was the Moderator!

Xmas Gifts to Be Distributed to Vets

Christmas will be brightened for veterans obliged to spend the holiday at Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital by the distribution of gifts contributed by local clubs and other organizations. Many extra Gray Ladies from the Newton Red Cross Chapter will be on duty before Christmas to give out the presents which are being collected under Community Services to camps and hospitals, Miss Adelaide B. Fall, coordinator.

Any groups which would like to participate in this holiday project of cheer for the less fortunate, may send in articles to the Newton Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville. Both men's and women's gifts will be welcome. Suggested articles are ties, socks, leather frames or wallets, soap, perfume, stationery, pens or pencils, or handkerchiefs. All should be wrapped and labelled. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Ball at BI-4-6706.

Celebration of the Fifty-First Birthday of the Chapter, a Demonstration of Speed Typing at H.S. Business Division

On Friday, December 6, the pupils of the Business Division of Newton High School enjoyed a typewriting demonstration by Mr. Norman Saksvig, former speed champion and authority on correct typewriting technique. Mr. Saksvig was the world's typewriting champion in 1938, 1939, and 1940. In 1941 he entered the U. S. Navy and trained 35,000 yeoman at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He also served as coding officer on Admiral Nimitz' staff in the Pacific area.

Mr. Saksvig demonstrated correct posture and such techniques as insertion of paper, position of fingers on the keys, manipulation of the mechanical parts of the typewriter, and ways of avoiding fatigue. Pupils had the opportunity to contrast their own techniques, playfully demonstrated by the former champion, with those of the man who has three times held the world speed record.

Miss Dorothy Coffey, member of the Office Practice class, held the stop watch which clocked Mr. Saksvig's speed at 149 words per minute while typing from unfamiliar copy.

Christmas Sale of gifts and a luncheon were high points of the regular meeting of the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., Monday afternoon, December 8th, held at the Chapter House in Newton Lower Falls.

The singing of Christmas Carols and the splendid reading of "Dust of the Road" by Mrs. George H. Norton added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon. Mrs. James G. Patterson, Regent, was in charge.

Coal Supply Greatest Single Asset in U. S. Local Man Asserts

James J. Sidebotham of 124 Walnut Hill Road, Newton Highlands delivered a talk "Magic in the Earth" before the Somerville Kiwanis Club at their luncheon meeting on Thursday. Well known in Newton, Mr. Sidebotham of New England Coal and Coke Company speaking on behalf of the Bituminous Coal Institute declared: "Bituminous coal in abundance is our greatest single economic resource and is symbolic of America's greatness in industrial productivity."

"So important is coal as a source of energy that national paralysis would ensue if the supply were shut off," Sidebotham said. "Most of the electric utilities and all of the coke ovens, if not fed by coal, would close as well as our great steel mills; there would be a stoppage of 70 per cent of our railroads, 65 per cent of our cement mills, and more than 60 per cent of all other basic industries. As a chemical raw material it is beyond comparison," he said.

"Bituminous coal mined in the United States supports, directly and indirectly, over five million Americans. It costs the consumer infinitely less per pound than does food and other necessities of life," declared Mr. Sidebotham. "As to wages, the bituminous coal miner today is among the highest paid of industrial workers anywhere. He gets a basic daily pay of $13.05 for an eight-hour workday which includes, in underground mining, about an hour of travel time and one-half hour for lunch. Many coal miners earn $400 and $500 a month, and some even get $600 a month. In seven years the bituminous coal miner's pay has increased 161 per cent, which is much more than the wage increase to industrial workers generally.

"Coal is the spark of our industrial civilization, and of our economic progress," Sidebotham said. "It is the driving force behind 70 out of every 100 locomotives in the United States. It is the muscle that turns countless millions of wheels of industry. It furnishes light. It was the backbone of the far-flung war we were waging a few years ago. Had we emptied the nation's coal bin for sixty days and lost our electric power, our coke and our steel, the Allies would have lost the war. We could not have fought the war without coal."

Pointing to the brilliant role coal plays in the progress of chemistry, Sidebotham continued, "From it are derived sulphur, anesthetics and aspirin that have given relief to so much human suffering. Within it are the moth flakes and baking soda, colorful dyes and the world of plastics. And train loads of fertilizer that add billions of bushels of eatables for our dinner tables. All these, plus steel and nylon are among the two hundred thousand by-products that come out of bituminous coal."

"No monopoly exists in the coal industry," Sidebotham emphasized. "In this 3 billion dollar business, there are 6,000 companies operating over 12,000 mines. Only one company produces more than five per cent of the annual output, and only 11 companies produce as much as one per cent of the entire output."

The club was beautifully decorated for the Yuletide season, and in spite of the inclement weather, the air of cheer and festivity within the clubhouse was in keeping with the Christmas spirit and the delightful program, presented by the youthful voices of this outstanding Choral Art Society of the Boston University.

Alumni of the B.U. in the audience were invited to join the choir as the audience stood during the singing of "O Glorious Thy Name and Fame," Boston University hymn, the words of which were written by President Daniel Marsh of B.U.

Rev. Cornelius Sherlock, Diocesan Superintendent of Schools, spoke of the practical charity exemplified by the Mother of God during her life here on earth.

A program of music was presented by the Girl's choir and the Boy's Sanctuary choir with Mrs. Rose Bowen at the organ. The service was concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament with the following priests officiating: Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, celebrant; Rev. Alexander Dungan, S.J., deacon; Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, sub-deacon; Rev. John H. Quinlan, deacon of exposition; Rev. Michael E. Doherty, master of ceremonies, assisted by Rev. Arthur I. Norton and Rev. Daniel Hannigan. The acolytes were Ralph Morrison, William Fagan, John Donahue and Eugene Laverty.

Planned Parenthood Petition Gets 2969 Signatures Here

Newton contributed 2,969 signatures to the Initiative Petition to amend the general laws of the state to allow medical rights sponsored by the Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts. The petition was filed on Tuesday, December 2, with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and contained a grand total of 80,180 names of voting citizens from 260 Massachusetts towns.

According to veteran state employees this number of signatures was unprecedented for any previous Initiative Petition and almost double the number of signatures obtained on a similar petition in 1940.

Newton placed fourth among the cities participating in the number of certified signatures and Middlesex was first among the counties with 23,268 names. This number represents 29 per cent of the state wide total, more than the sum of the next two counties added together.

With four times the necessary number of signatures, the filing of this Initiative Petition at this time ensures that the State Legislature will take up the proposed amendment favoring planned parenthood after the General Court convenes in January. If the legislature does not pass the measure, the League must collect 5,000 additional signatures during the summer in order that it may be placed on the November, 1948 ballot in the state election.

Credit for the successful start of this second effort to "put Massachusetts back into the United States," according to Mrs. Walter E. Campbell of Cambridge, president, should go

Newton 'Y' Chess Teams Win, Lose

The Newton "Y" Chess teams split their matches in the Metropolitan League Friday Dec. 5, as the Gambiteers blanked the Brattle Club II of Cambridge 5 to 0 at the "Y" rooms and the Commonwealth "Y" dropped a 3½ to 1½ decision to Boston University College of Business Administration, at Boston.

The games marked the start of the second round of the 12-team league competition, and the Gambiteers' win assured them of keeping pace with the two leading teams, the Boylston Club and Harvard University.

The summary: Richard Bean of Gambiteers defeated R. Saxton, Roy Cove of Gambiteers defeated G. Saxton; Robert Moir of Gambiteers defeated Fitzpatrick; Capt. Theodore Chandler of Gambiteers defeated Reese; Warren Blaisdell of Gambiteers won by default; Captain Monroth of B.U. defeated Capt. George Hopwood; Dr. S. W. Kramer of Commonwealth defeated Randall; Edward Miller of Commonwealth "Y" drew with Schmetzer; Berg of B.U. defeated Larry La Rochelle; Schwartz of B. U. defeated Miss Marjorie Williams.

Next Friday's matches are Gambiteers vs. Lynn Chess Club at Lynn and Commonwealth "Y" vs. Cambridge "Y" Chess Club at Cambridge.

Win Letters at Rivers School

The Annual Fathers' and Sons' Football Dinner of the Rivers Country Day School was held at the school gymnasium in Chestnut Hill Monday evening. The principal speakers were Lothrop Withington, captain of the Harvard football team of 1911 and chairman of the board of trustees of the school, and Coach Denny Myers of Boston College. Further highlights of the evening were the awards to members of the various football teams from the sixth grade through the twelfth.

Prudential Insurance Managers Meet

District managers of The Prudential Insurance Co. in charge of the company's offices in the Eastern New England area, met at the Hotel Copley-Plaza, Boston here for a two-day conference on December 9 and 10.

The meeting, presided over by John M. Little, Regional Manager from Prudential's home office in Newark, N. J., was held for the purpose of outlining plans for 1948 and to familiarize the field organization with the latest developments in company policy and procedure. It was one of a series of regional meetings being held in all parts of the country this month.

In addition to Mr. Little, the sessions were addressed by John Ferris, Second Vice President, Carl A. Albrecht, District Sales Manager in the group insurance department and others.

Each of the 21 district managers attending was accompanied by one assistant district manager. H. L. Polner, assistant manager in charge of Prudential's Newton office was accompanied by District Manager, M. L. Mohor of Cambridge.

F. A. Day Jr. High "News of the Day"

The first football assembly within a decade took place in the Day Auditorium last Wednesday morning. William Warren of Grade Nine introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. Steve Sinko, former Duquesne College star, who played professional football three years with the Boston Redskins and two years with the Los Angeles Rams and who coached the Iowa Pre Flight teams during the war. The Boston University Harvard football game pictures were shown in color while Coach Sinko commented on the plays and players. Mr. John Eldert, head coach, then presented certificates and letters to the members of the team after spiking of the successful season and saying that the assistance of Mr. Robert Carr, assistant coach, and Joe Schichlone, Dick Schultz, Kirby Kellar, and Frank Tanner of the Newton High School team were invaluable. Captain Alfred Dangel presented gifts from the team to the two coaches. The players who received letters and certificates followed: Alfred Dangel, William Lee, Nicholas Colletta, Gibson Studley, Paul Sullivan, John Luciano, Louis Celucci, Louis Mastromattei, Richard Corner, Donald Shaw, Allan Rowlings, Chalon Carnahan, Harold Crosby, Leonard Hayes, An-

Last Wednesday afternoon three of our pupils, Ann Underhill, Carol Bram, and Harold Murphy, went to Cushing Hospital for Veterans in Framingham to give Junior Red Cross service. Glowing praises have been received for the service they gave. These three pupils are to be congratulated for the good they have done and the new friends they have made for the Junior Red Cross.

Last week's radio broadcast, Dawn MacDougall and Ellen Swartz, interviewed Karen Baldry of Room 10. Since her father, Major Baldry, is in the regular army, the family has moved so frequently that Karen has attended fifteen different schools and lived in many of the states as well as Hawaii.

Home Rooms 10, 23, 18, 22, 27, 20, 13, 25, and 17 have filled Red Cross boxes to be sent to various countries to help to make Christmas seem more real to other children to whom Santa Claus is but a dim memory or a shattered myth.

Home Room 92 won the seventh grade football championship by beating Room 18 in a hard fought game by a 22 to 13 score.

The Anniversary tea preparations were in charge of Miss Joline Bonin who received much assistance from the pupils of 7 I-A in baking cookies and preparing sandwiches. Suzanne Johnson and Joan Quinn of Grade eight, Rita Lochiatto of Grade seven, and Barbara Anastasia and Lillian Perruzzi of Grade nine did a great deal of work both before and during the Anniversary tea both in preparing for the tea and in clearing up.

Carson Post A.L. to Donate Christmas Trees to Vet Hospital

A group of 35 members of Carson Post, American Legion spent three days during the past week at the farm of Senior Vice-Commander Fred Sawyer at Unity, New Hampshire where they cut down 700 Christmas trees.

Many of the trees will be donated to Veterans' Hospitals and a tree will be placed in each ward of the New England Peabody Home. The Post will also place a large tree on Memorial Park on Langley Road. The remaining trees will be sold at a stand at the corner of Langley Road and Boylston Street, Newton Centre where Anthony DeMaio, dressed as Santa Claus, will be in charge.

The Post will also entertain more than 200 children at a party at the Bowen School on Sunday afternoon, December 21 at 2 o'clock. Louis Macalione is acting chairman of arrangements during the absence of Vice-Commander Sawyer who is ill at the Veterans Administration Hospital in West Roxbury.

exhibit drew many interested guests during the anniversary visiting. Many of the exhibitors are now alumni who are making their places in the art world. Among them were Barbara Swan, now teaching at Wellesley College, Museum School of Art, and Boris Mirski Gallery; Charles Cutler, a sculptor, now teaching in an art school in Cincinnati; Marjorie Mighill of Ginn and Company; Faye Dyer Johnson, who is doing commercial work; Whitney Cushing, veteran student at Ringling School of Art in Sarasota, Florida, who held a one man exhibition at Burlington, Vermont, during the summer; Andree Chartrand, student at Rhode Island School of Design; Barbara and Beverly Hillier, and Ruth Dowett, who are attending art schools; Sylvia Nargesian, who is doing fashion illustration for Boston stores; and Judith Andres Lewis, a former art teacher. There were exhibits of work by four veterans whose names are on the gold star Honor Roll: Daniel and Joseph Cedron, cartoons; Louis Vuilleumier who taught at an art school in New Bedford before the war; and Charles Skinner, whose model of Pegotry House was done in high school and whose architectural drawings were done while he was at M.I.T.

Catholic Boys' Guidance Centre

The Guild of Our Lady of Good Counsel is giving a Monster Bridge and Whist Party for the Catholic Boys Guidance Centre, 102 The Fenway, Boston on Saturday, December 13, 1947 at 2:30 p.m.

Here Father Thomas F. McNamara, Director, and his two assistants, Father Thomas F. Wilkinson and Father John E. Guiney work diligently and faithfully to help the boys entrusted to their care to become useful citizens and an asset to their respective communities.

In addition to the large number of prizes already donated, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing and Bishop John Wright have donated excellent prizes for the occasion. New friends and interested people are invited to attend the whist party and become acquainted with the work of the Centre.

Mrs. Raymond Fallon of Chestnut Hill, a member of The Advisory committee and her group of assistants are lending their able support to this endeavor.

Among the many sponsors are the following Newton residents: Mrs. John P. Tierney of Newtonville, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Lyne of Chestnut Hill, Mrs. John F. Gallagher of Newton, Mr. and Mrs. James V. Toner of West Newton, and Miss Eleanor Gallagher of Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gibson of Newton.

Newton Newcomers Club

Mrs. Edgar Brister the newly elected president of the Newton Newcomers Club, conducted the first meeting of the season last Friday, at the Newton Highlands Workshop.

Hockey Season Open

Last Saturday, the opening day of the Greater Boston Interscholastic Hockey League season, Newton won 3-2 against Melrose High School in the last period. "Jeep" Coyle, second string center for the Newton sextet took the puck from the face-off, dribbled a few feet with it and then let it go into the Melrose net. This all happened in the first few minutes of the last period. At the end of the first period by a goal scored by right wing Billy Fitzpatrick with the assist by Captain Danny "Mayor" Keefe center, Newton's second goal came in the second period when "Mayor" Keefe took the puck away from Dockrell, the Melrose right winger, and skated towards the net then took a shot into Melrose's goalie Brackett who made the save but shot the puck back right to Donny Collins who boomeranged it into the net for Newton's second tally.

In the third period Melrose came back to tie the game up. Both goals were scored by center John Groucutt. His first one came in the first six seconds of play right after the face-off. His team-mates formed a screen for him approximately fifteen feet away from the net and he shot it past Paul "Pinky" Higgins Newton's goal tender.

On the face-off which followed Groucutt again got the puck. He skated around the left wing spot and then shot the puck again into the Newton goal. The goal that soon came after was the aforementioned by Coyle. The score at the end of the game, Newton 3 Melrose 2.

New Hockey Rink

For some time now Newton High School has been boasting about its athletic facilities. It has the beautiful Dickinson Stadium and a well out door track layout combined. A beautiful baseball diamond is located to the east of the football field complete with stands. To the north end of the diamond lies another football field used mostly for practice sessions and pre-season scrimmages. Tennis courts are located to the east of the practice field. They are used daily, in good weather, by the girls' gym department and boys' tennis varsity. Every one will agree that this is wonderful and the students of Newton High have a lot to be thankful for.

A new addition to the athletic grounds is steadily nearing completion. It is a hockey rink to be used for practice by the varsity and for practice and games by the intermediate squad and jayvees. Construction on the rink began rather late so it is doubtful that it will be completed for use this year. There is a chance, however, that it may be finished if poor weather holds off another few weeks.

Track

Last Monday afternoon the candidates for the high school track team met with Mr. Charles Considine head track mentor. The turnout was tremendous. It was probably the largest group of boys ever to try out for one team at the high school. Coach Considine, a former member of the Brown "Iron Men", has back with him this year quite a few of last year's track stars. To mention a few of them are: Harvey Alexander, Kirby Keller, Donny Fitzpatrick who was captain of this year's football team and on the out door track team, Jim Ferris, Bud Hurwitz, and Don Burcovitz.

For you track fans here is your track schedule for the season which starts in January. 1947-48 Newton High School Indoor Track Schedule
Jan. 10, Sat. Newton at Lowell.
Jan. 15, Thurs. Newton at Malden.
Jan. 24, Sat. Newton at N'rh
Jan. 24, Sat. Newton at Northeastern Meet.
Jan. 29, Thurs. Medford at Newton.

Feb. 7, Sat. Newton at State Meet at Boston Gardens.
Feb. 12, Thurs. Newton at Brookline.

While we're on the subject of schedules maybe you would be interested in a program change for next year's football season. Newton High School will not play Belmont next year. Quincy will fill in on Belmont's date and Haverhill High School will fill in on Quincy's date. It all sums up to this: Newton will drop Belmont from its schedule and will play Haverhill instead.

Basketball

Another week has passed since the beginning of basketball and so far the team looks pretty good. They scrimmaged Brown and Nichols last Monday and it resulted in a fair tussle. The high school team looks pretty good in shooting and their set-up plays seem to be working very well.

Coach Reginald (Smitty) Smith has ordered that all practices be secret but we've managed to see glimpses of the "Tiger" basketball squad work out from the balcony that overlooks the gym.

The hoop squad meets Watertown at Watertown January 6, and in my opinion Watertown better be good and ready. I'd even go so far as to pick Newton over Watertown in that game.

Just recently letters were awarded to the following boys for participating on the various football squads, either the varsity, intermediates, or jayvees.

Bits from Bigelow

After the football season is over, Bigelow is happy to extend their deepest gratitude to all who strived hard to give Bigelow an excellent football team. Bigelow heavyweights won three games, tied two games, and lost two games, ending the season tied with Weeks Junior High School for the championship. Bigelow lightweights, however, won only one game, tied no games, and lost four games.

With the coming of basketball Bigelow has another task. All we can say is, "Good Luck, Bigelow."

By Edward Kabler

It is with regret that we learn the moving of George Larkin to Merrimack, Massachusetts. The students of Bigelow who came to know him learned to respect him. He was a fine student, a member of the Boys' Glee Club and Boys' Leader Corps. Outside of school he was a member of the Boy Scouts. We all know he will find many new friends, and we wish him the best of luck.

The Bigelow and Underwood School Thrift Shop had their grand opening on Tuesday, December 2, 1947. It was a big success. They collected sixty-two dollars. Mrs. Arthur B. Norley and Mrs. Lawrence Barber act as co-chairmen. The committee for receiving and selling are the following: Mrs. Dana Parks, Jr., Mrs. Henry Jones, Mrs. William Cass, Mrs. Warren Manhard, Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson, and Mrs. John Hamblet. Each week the mothers are asked to assist the committee. This week Mrs. P. Brown, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. E. Wasson, Mrs. P. Akeroyd, and Mrs. Hardy volunteered. The Thrift Shop's purpose is to make money to buy important articles needed for the schools. Every piece of clothing in good condition for children up to sixteen may be brought in. It is a worthy cause. Help it.

By Roberta Norley

Tuesday, December 2, instead of our usual first period, there was an assembly for the boys. This meeting was opened by Johnny Adams, who was master of ceremonies. The first speaker was Sea Scout, Paul Murphy, from Ship 13. He told us about the cruise he was on this summer. The second speaker was David Stockweather, a boy scout of Troop 15. He explained about the canoe trip he went on in Maine this summer. The fourth speaker was Tom Linden who told about his trip to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico. Then Mr. Smith, the Field Executive of the Norumbega Council, led us in a song. After that there was a movie which showed what happened in the Winter Camporee, the Spring Camporee, and the Swim Meet.

In the Bigelow School Library the book that pupils take out most frequently during the month is selected as the Book of the Month. For the month of November Lou Gehrig is the boy's choice of books from the library, due to the popularity of the late baseball star. This book not only is the book of the month but could very easily be voted the top book of the year so far. The colorful nature of this athletic hero has captured the mind of many a boy and also some girls. This man, loved by everyone, teammate of Babe Ruth, and a great star of the New York Yankees set many a record for his team.

"adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation"

FROM THE OFFICIAL REPORT of the Interstate Commerce Commission on awarding a temporary freight rate increase of 10%, we quote:

"The law requires us to give due consideration, among other factors, to the need of revenue sufficient to enable the carriers under honest, economic, and efficient management to provide adequate and efficient railway transportation service for the nation..."

A moment's thought should convince any fair-minded person that keeping the American railroads healthy is to everybody's advantage.

Every family, every businessman, even the Nation itself is in danger when this vital artery of American life is weakened.

And that threat is real, and it is now. For with increases in the cost of railroad operation piling up one atop another, how can the railroads' multimillion dollar program for desperately needed new equipment be continued? How can improvements in roadbeds, yards, stations, rolling stock, which took a merciless beating in the war years of peak traffic, be carried through?

They can't... UNLESS—

Unless the railroads are granted freight rates adequate to meet the wage and materials cost increases, and at the same time keep hundreds of American industries busy with new machinery and equipment orders.

Government requires that the railroads maintain a high standard of efficiency because You demand it, Industry depends on it, and the Nation must have it.

We are asking a permanent freight rate increase of the absolute minimum to meet our need—which is in every sense your need.

Our request should be granted.

Kiwanis Club

Mr. John H. Walsh, President of the Boston and Middlesex Street Railway Company, told members of the Newton Kiwanis Club of the problems that mount daily, while operating 145 passenger buses over 180 route miles in 18 cities and towns, daily, during the Club's meeting, at the Y.M.C.A. Wednesday.

The M. and B. Street Railway Company was organized in 1886, Mr. Walsh said, electrified in 1890 and began the operation of buses in 1924. The main offices of the company are located on Washington street, Newtonville. The buses are operated from five divisions and all main repairs, seventy-five per cent of them, are made in the Waltham yards—the former central "Carbarn." Purchases are also made from this point, all of the purchases made locally, in the areas served by the M. and B. System.

With costs increasing, the ten cent fare will not be increased, Mr. Walsh continued, although in the case of employees alone, wages have been increased from 72 cents per hour in 1940 to the current rate of 1.27 per hour. In addition, Mr. Walsh added, the company also provides Blue Cross protection, one new uniform a year and two weeks vacation for its employees. All of them are excellent drivers, he declared, and safely transport 19 million passengers to their various destinations annually.

"The buses use over a million gallons of gasoline yearly, a $40,000 stock of repair parts is always at hand and the company pays more than $4000 for excise taxes in Newton a year. A few of the older buses have rolled up almost unbelievable mileage. One registering 840,000 miles and another 860,000. They were renewed mechanically several times. The average bus travels 50,000 miles every two months, each bus is completely overhauled when the mileage checks in at 125,000 on the speedometer. The cost of an overhaul amounts to $1000. Tires are furnished by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. and paid for on a mileage basis. Anti freeze is not used in buses. The buses roll up 320,000 miles per month and in the winter, the Weather Bureau is contacted several times each day and chains put on when reports indicate snow. In 1947 22 new buses were purchased with buses obtained from other lines bringing the total to 44 and all of the old ones will be replaced by 1948.

KIWANIS NOTES

Rev. Dr. Dabney to Lecture in Hawaii And Japan Univ.

The Rev. Dr. Vaughn Dabney of Newton, dean of Andover Newton Theological School, oldest Baptist and Congregational seminaries in the United States and formerly pastor of Second Church Congregational, Dorchester, will leave Boston Dec. 29 for two months lecturing in Hawaii and several months in Japan at the famous Doshisha University. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Dabney.

The Doshisha University, comparable to Japan as Harvard is to the United States, was founded by Joseph Hardy Neesima, Andover Seminary graduate, who was ordained at the Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, in 1874.

Neesima was one of the first Japanese Christian evangelists. He smuggled himself aboard a vessel in Japan and came to the United States as a stowaway. The ship, rounded Cape Cod and headed into Boston as President Lincoln, was assassinated. A wealthy Bostonian took an interest in the Japanese youth and paid his college education.

Dr. Dabney will spend considerable time in ministerial conferences in the Pacific and Orient studying the work of the pioneer Andover missionaries.

In connection with his appointment as a special Hyde lecturer on Missions, which will take him on the above tour, Dr. Dabney was tendered a testimonial luncheon on Monday, Dec. 8 at the Old South Church, Copley square, at 12:15.

The main speaker at the luncheon was the Rev. Dr. Rockwell Harmon Potter, formerly dean of the Hartford Seminary at Hartford, Conn., and moderator of the Congregational National Council.

Other speakers were the Rev. Dr. M. Russell Boynton, president of the Andover trustees; the Rev. Dr. Everett C. Harrick, president emeritus of Andover Newton; the Rev. Dr. Robert Coe, of Brookline; the Rev. Dr. Harold W. Tribble, president of Andover Newton; and Miss Alice Cary, Japan secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions. The student body was represented by John Evans and Hiroshi Izumi, a graduate of Doshisha University. The Mt. Vernon Church was represented by the Rev. Dr. Theodore C. Schoonmaker, associate pastor. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Dr. Frederick Meek.

W. H. Sullivan, Local Hood Manager, Hopes for Good Winter Ahead

Mr. W. H. Sullivan, who is vitally interested in having his men cover miles and miles of streets and roads every day, has a few secrets up his sleeve as to how to get the milk delivered even when Old Man Winter does his best to tie things up.

Sullivan is the Newton-Waterdown Branch Manager for H. P. Hood & Sons, the famous New England dairy company which has been delivering milk for 101 years, starting out as one small route in New Hampshire in 1846. He says his company has had plenty of tough experience in its other New England branches during the winter, but he believes that local weather conditions are the worst of any, and he'll match his men against those of any other Hood group for showing ingenuity in beating Old Man Winter.

"People often ask me are we organized," says Sullivan. "In the first place, milk routes can't be allowed to grow like Topsy if we're to give efficient service. For instance, we must always have three men who know each and every route from beginning to end. This is necessary to maintain service when any of the regular delivery men are ill, on vacation, or taking their regular days off."

"Behind these men are the garage mechanics who are responsible for keeping our delivery equipment in tip-top condition every day of the week. Furthermore, they must know the route of each vehicle so that they can take special precautions to help the man who delivers to customers on hilly roads and those most apt to be blocked by drifts. We are geared to combat almost any emergency, but we're never quite sure whether Old Man Winter is going to lick us somewhere along the line. But to date our battling average has been pretty high."

Mr. Sullivan went on to explain that since most of the milk he delivers is purchased locally and must therefore be shipped to him in trucks, snow storms and sleet storms are also a major problem to those responsible for bringing Hood's Milk from the farms to the local distribution point.

Lower Fall Cubs and Scouts to Hold Joint Christmas Party

The kindergarten of the Hamilton School will be the scene of a joint Christmas party with Cub Pack 23 and Scout Troop 23, on Monday, December 15, at 7:30 p.m. The theme for December is "Helps and Gives", on which the program will be based. Den 3 will be in charge, supervised by den mother, Mrs. Roger Loring.

Santa, in the person of Peter Downing, will make his appearance and will provide a truly "night before Christmas" atmosphere. Those aiding and abetting Santa will be Richard Dumais, Richard Emmetts, Jackie Daniels, Donald Loring and Ronald Moreau.

All present will take part in carol singing, and refreshments will be served.

In line with the monthly theme Cub Pack 23 is busy making gifts for parents, and repairing toys to give to a Boy's Home. Brownie Troop 94 of Newton Lower Falls will be hostess to younger brothers and sisters at a Christmas party to be given on Thursday, December 18, at 1:30 p.m. in the kindergarten of the Hamilton School. Mothers are also invited. A Christmas Playlet will be presented with all Brownies taking part, and will be under the direction of Mrs. George Marsh. Appropriate games will be played, refreshments served, and gifts distributed to all.

The troop committee, headed by Mrs. Edna Burdick, is assisting Brownie Leader, Mrs. Arthur C. Gernes, and Mrs. Marsh with general arrangements.

Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Board Meeting

The directors of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association met in the Nurses' Home on Tuesday, December 9th, at 10:30 o'clock for their monthly board meeting. The president, Mrs. Ernest P. Rallsback, was in the chair. The minutes of the November meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Warner Eustis. Reports were presented by Miss Maida Flanders, the treasurer, and by Mrs. Ellsworth M. Tracy, the corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Francis H. Williams announced the profits of the Annual Treasure Sale for the Benefit Shop which took place in November at the Hospital, and of the Benefit Tea at Mrs. Elton G. Cushman's, in Wellesley. The Christmas Sale at the Benefit Shop is taking place this week, and Mrs. Williams stressed the need for donations to the food table. Among the unusual articles which will find ready sale at the shop are old jelly moulds, and a set of sleigh bells would be a welcome donation. There is a need for old tennis balls and anyone who has them to spare is asked to contact Mrs. Williams.

Mr. Walter L. McGill reported a busy month at the Coffee and Gift Shop. Members of the Aid were urged to patronize the Coffee Shop at the tea hour and to inspect the Gift Shop at the same time. It is hoped to inaugurate a new service at the hospital in the near future. A volunteer is needed for one hour a day to push a cart laden with cards, gifts and magazines to all the wards at a specified time. If you can help, call Mrs. Wright, Las. 7500.

Mrs. Paul T. Babson of Wellesley is chairman on arrangements for the Glee Club Concert to be held next March. Her co-chairman is Mrs. Harold C. Wiswall. Mrs. Babson announced that Alumnae Hall, Wellesley College, has been secured for the concert.

The Annual Meeting will be in January, and a tour of the Hospital has been arranged for that time. Mrs. Oliver Ames Lathrop is the chairman of the refreshment committee.

The hostesses for the morning were Mrs. Cecil Clark and Mrs. Carl G. Johnson.

Case No. 20801 Reg. THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS LAND COURT

To City of Newton, a municipal corporation, located in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; Katharine F. Grade, Margaret K. Cantor, Edson B. Smith, Irene B. Smith, Arthur H. Sweetnam and Florence Wyatt Sweetnam, of said Newton; Boston Five Cent Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; Charles William Warren, of South Berwick, in the State of Maine; Elsie Bartlett, now or formerly of said Newton, and Stephen W. Trowbridge, now or formerly of said Boston, or their heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Wilfred G. Holsberg, of said Boston, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Newton called Waban, bounded and described as follows:

Northeasterly by Lorraine Circle 46.99 feet; Southeasterly by land now or formerly of the City of Newton 140.75 feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of Charles William Warren 132 feet; and Northwest by lands now or formerly of Margaret K. Cantor and Katharine F. Grade 132.33 feet.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above-described land rights in Lorraine Circle as shown on a plan hereinafter mentioned.

The above-described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the fifth day of January next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eighth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and forty-seven.

Attest with Seal of said Court. ROBERT E. FRENCH, Recorder. Cohen & Berkman, Attys., 68 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass. for Petitioner.

RECENT DEATHS

Margaret McDonald

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret McDonald, wife of Edward McDonald, former sexton of the Church of Our Lady, Newton Funeral Home, Watertown on Wednesday morning. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Arthur I. Norton assisted by Rev. Robert E. Brennan of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton as deacon and Rev. Francis Francioni, C.S.P. of Elm Bank Seminary, Wellesley, sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Norton.

Mrs. McDonald died on Sunday at her home in Old Saybrook, Conn. She was in her 62nd year and was born in London, England, the daughter of James A. and Margaret (Gannon) Farley. While a resident of Newton she lived at 15 Rockland street. She was a member of the Newton Division, Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H.

Besides her husband she leaves a sister, Mrs. Hudson Barrows of Brooklyn, N. Y. and a brother, Thomas Farley of Camden, Maine.

Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls, Friday, December 12, at 2 p.m. with Rev. Burton B. Smith, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

Pvt. Donald F. Charlton
A military funeral was held Tuesday morning for Pvt. Donald F. Charlton, son of Mrs. Delphine (Rabittail) Charlton of 147 Linwood avenue, Newtonville, and the late Charles Charlton.

A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Francis X. Bransfield assisted by Rev. Arthur I. Norton as deacon and Rev. John Hannigan, sub-deacon.

Serving as pallbearers were Daniel Tocci, Gerard Tocci, Dante Carderelli, William Seely, Richard Trudo and Jack LePine, all World War II veterans who were classmates of Pvt. Charlton at the Newton Trade School. The massed color of all of Newton's veterans' organizations led the procession. The firing squad comprised a group of soldiers from Fort Banks, Winthrop.

Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown, with prayers by Fr. Bransfield. Sgt. William Rucker, Jr., who accompanied the body from Seattle, Wash., presented the flag to Pvt. Charlton's mother.

Pvt. Charlton, who was in his 20th year, was killed while on sentry duty in Tokyo on October 28 of this year.

Tyler Kepner
Private funeral services were held today at the Cate Funeral Chapel, West Newton for Tyler Kepner, husband of Mrs. Helen Kepner, of 54 Daniel street, Newton Centre.

Mr. Kepner who was for 15 years director of social studies for the Brookline public schools, died suddenly on Tuesday, December 9. He was in his 50th year. He was graduated from Harvard University and was the author of four textbooks on American History. In 1923 he became a member of the Brookline High School faculty which marked the beginning of his service for the Brookline schools.

Besides his wife he leaves a daughter, Mrs. John D. Goethel of Newtonville.

Boy Scouts

Norumbega Council

By popular request of Norumbega Scouters the annual B.S.A. Roll Call and Round-Up, will extend to December 31 instead of the original closing date of December 15. The reason—many Troops and Packs and Senior Units have planned Community Service Projects which cannot be completed before the end of the month—particularly Unit Xmas Good Turns; other Units plan to have Christmas Round-Ups.

During the past week the following Units have completed the requirements for the "B" part of the B.S.A. Scoutmaster Melick's Troop 4A, Quinobegon District; Scoutmaster Ferlazzo's Troop 81, Nehoiden District; Scoutmaster White's Troop 2W, Maugus District; Scoutmaster Cicci's Troop 33, Viking District; Cubmaster Hopkin's Pack 10, Quinobegon District; Cubmaster Gaffney's Pack 21, Sachem District; Cubmaster Smith's Pack 35, Maugus District; Scoutmaster Vassalotti's new Troop 23, Viking District. A fine record of achievement since the last B.S.A. Bulletin Congratulations to the above Units and Leaders.

The standing by Districts is as follows:

Dist.	Units	Quota	Recruit.	%
Sachem	13	78	85	106
Commissioner	James Blackall
Quinobegon	9	54	52	96
Commissioner	W. W. Bullen
Nehoiden	8	42	37	88
Commissioner	Page Sanderson
Maugus	9	54	45	83
Commissioner	H. Ward Beebe
Squanto	16	90	67	74
Commissioner	Walter Chase
Viking	15	84	57	68
Commissioner	George Koller

Council Totals 70 .402 343 85
Jim Blackall's Sachem is the "District of the Week"—the first District to go "over the top," with 106% of Quota—and the top of the list! Bill Bullen's Quinobegon made a nice climb from 4th place to 2nd. Ward Beebe's Maugus jumped a notch from 5th to 4th place. George Koller's Viking recruited most boys since last bulletin—32 boys, and all 32 were new Scouts. It looks like "A White Christmas" for the 1947 B.S.A.—if we get the balance of those new boys registered at the Scout office before December 31.

Two new "B.S." Units have qualified since last Thursday. They are Scoutmaster Brack's Troop 22, Squanto District and Cubmaster Hall's Pack 24, Maugus District.

"B.S.A." Units. We proudly announce the first B.S.A. Units of 1947—Units which have gone the whole route by qualifying for "B"—"S"—"A" ("B" recruited 6 new members; "S" conducted and reported a Unit Parents Round-Up meeting; "A" completed and reported 3 Community Service Projects; Cubmaster Walker's Pack 4, Quinobegon District; Cubmaster Stahl's Pack 30, Squanto District; Cubmaster Dunne's Pack 37, Nehoiden District; Scoutmaster Green's Troop 17, Sachem District; Scoutmaster Pilcher's Troop 19, Sachem District.

The Troop Trophy Contest for most Scouts recruited by a Troop is gathering momentum. Troop 16 still holds the lead—but there are newcomers on the list this week:

1st, Troop 16, 12 new members
2nd, Troop 17, 11 new members
3rd, Troop 84, 9 new members
4th, Troop 2W, 8 new members
4th, Troop 19, 8 new members

The individual Scout Watch Award has caused a real hustle among our Scouts. One Scout endeavored to organize a new Troop.

Suggestions have been requested for Community Service—here are some accomplished by Troops or Packs for 1947 B.S.A.:

1. Troop painted church room floor.
2. Pack collected and sent clothes to Maine fire area.
3. Troop cleaned cellar for Sponsoring Institution.
4. Pack distributed Community literature (not Chest Literature Distribution).
5. Troop collected wastepaper—proceeds for Sponsoring Institution World Friendship Fund.
6. Pack Collected wastepaper—($27.00 sent to Scouting's World Friendship Fund).
7. Troop sent "CARE" package to Europe.
8. Xmas toy and food collections for Hospitals and needy families (note:—this "Good Turn" should be checked with the Scout Office for proper Community Council clearance).

Cub Pack 35 held its annual Roll Call Pack Meeting on Tuesday evening, December 2, at the Annie F. Warren School. Prior to the regular meeting, Cubmaster Morton Smith discussed the new requirements for Cub awards, and urged the parents to participate in the accomplishments with their boys. Further, it was announced that the Pack lacked only five points from achieving the B.S.A. award, and which the Pack hoped to fulfill before the December deadline.

Following presentation of the colors and Pack inspection, Philip Richardson, Norumbega Commissioner of Cubbing, presented registration cards to each Cub. He followed with a Roll Call of Pack officers and committees, and presented the Cub Scout Charter to Pack Committee Chairman, C. A. Akeson.

With "Playing" Phil Richardson at the piano, and "Singing" Phil Richardson leading, the entire Pack held a songfest covering a few of the Cub songs. Den 2, with Den Mother Mary Smith, put on an amusing "Shadow Show" skit in pantomime, in which Dr. Frankenstein performed three delicate operations on a patient.

Den 8, with Mrs. Holt as Den Mother, and the following Bobcats, Philip Holt, Malcolm Mahan and John Weyand, were inducted and welcomed in to the Cub Pack. Den Chief Lothrop Smith led the new Bobcats through the Cub Promise and Oath.

Awards were made as follows: Gerry Moseley, Webelos Badge (highest rank in Cubbing); Jack Heath, Lion; Warren Priest, Bear; Jack Hill, Bear; Richard Buddine, Wolf Gold Arrow; Leiland Mahan, Wolf; Robert Fitzpatrick, Wolf; Arthur Alexander, Wolf.

Service Stars were presented as follows: 1 year, Richard Buddine; 2 years, Alan Akeson, Bradford Nickerson, Andrew Peterson, Robert Walker, Robert Fitzpatrick, Ralph Luby, William Kilmain and Gordon Flynn.

A Graduation ceremony was held for Jack Heath and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Heath. Cubmaster Smith thanked them for their active participation in Cubwork.

A large display of repaired toys adorned the stage, representing the gift of the Cubs to Christmas charities.

Attendance awards went again to Den 2, with Den 3 a close runner-up in the contest, in which 46 Cubs were present and some 60 parents and visitors also present.

Kuebler - Ellis

At a candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church on Saturday evening, Miss Betty Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Ellis of Newton was married to Walter Kuebler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Kuebler of Roselle Park, New Jersey. Rev. Otis L. Mason performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin over a lace hoop skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of orange blossoms and she carried a prayerbook with a white orchid.

Miss Francis Zubowicz of Boston, the maid of honor, wore a gown of deep red velvet with an off-the-shoulder neckline and bustle. The bridesmaid, Miss Marjorie Elkins of Newtonville and Miss Barbara Curley of West Newton, wore similar gowns of aqua velvet, and all carried old fashioned bouquets of roses and carnations.

Robert L. Stephens of Elizabeth, New Jersey, was the best man. The ushers were Edwin W. Ball of Linden, New Jersey and Clifton W. Roll of Roselle Park, New Jersey.

The bride attended the Newton Secretarial School. Mr. Kuebler attended the Pace Institute in New York. He served with the Army Air Forces in India.

Following a wedding trip to Miami Beach, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Kuebler will reside in Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel G. Millar of 337 Waltham street, West Newton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Catherine M. M. Millar, to Donald S. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Foster of 25 Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre.

Real Estate

Carley Realty reports the sale of the white Colonial located at 108 Albermarle road, Newtonville, consisting of 8 rooms, oil heat and 1-car detached garage together with approximately 9,706 sq. ft. of land. Muriel J. Gagne conveyed to Herbert F. and Ina R. Rich.

Alvord Bros. Realtors, have just sold the convenient, comfortable home with 4,157 feet of land, at 35 Aberdeen street, Newton Highlands. The estate of Sarah M. Wheaton conveyed to Perry William Fletcher.

Another recent Alvord Bros. sale is that of the lovely brick Georgian residence with ten rooms, four baths, 18,000 feet of land, and a three-car garage, situated in one of Newton's finest locations at 11 Sylvan avenue, West Newton, Alvord Bros. represented the seller, Mr. Howard W. Marshall, and Hunneman and Co., represented the buyer, Mr. Christian A. Herter, Jr.

Paul Harris Drake reports the sale of the slate-roofed, modern Dutch Colonial residence with 12,070 square feet of land, numbered 710 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, at the corner of Water street, formerly known as the Modern Priscilla Proving Plant, for Brendon R. and Dorother H. Dunn to Dr. Kermit H. Katz of 270 Commonwealth avenue, Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lamsed of 31 Emerson street, Newton announce the engagement of their daughter, Alyce Rita, to Fred Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell of Weston.

Oil looks Beyond tomorrow

How Shell works to increase our petroleum resources

This should surprise you:

The average American drinks $\frac{1}{2}$ gallon of water every day. 3 times that much oil— $1\frac{1}{2}$ gallons a day—is needed to fill his demands for all oil products. How is this ever-expanding demand to be met? The new Shell laboratory seeks—(1) better ways to locate new oil reserves... (2) more efficient ways of bringing oil to the surface.

Every precious drop:

Wringing from present fields every possible drop—leaving none wasted—that's the aim of production research. The life of many a long-used field is prolonged by pumping gas back into wells to force petroleum to the surface... or... by flooding old fields with water to drive the oil out.

Oil is more than "skin deep":

The face of the earth presents few clues. Crude oil lies deep... under swamps... mountains... oceans... even city streets. But with advanced scientific methods, oil men "see" into the earth—identify underground formations where oil is most likely to be found.

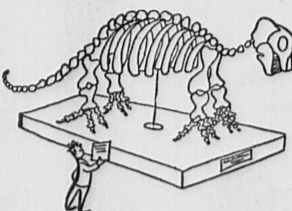

Stop, look, listen:

Shell scientists use radioactivity to help find reservoirs of petroleum and natural gas... make geologic explorations with echoes from dynamite explosions... chart underground rock formations by checking their magnetic and gravitational attractions. Chemistry, physics, geology and related engineering sciences—every scientific skill is employed to help find new oil fields.

Department of Ancient History:

At Shell's laboratory, paleontologists and geologists study ancient fossils and rocks to learn how, when and where oil is formed... how it moves through underground strata. The research plans of these scientists will turn the "underworld" into familiar ground.

Better "mud pies"—more oil:

One way to get more oil is to improve drilling methods. Specially prepared mud, pumped down through hollow drill stems, cools the drilling bit, flushes out bit cuttings, and keeps fabulous subsurface pressure under control. So, Shell Research works to improve drilling muds as another way to increase our oil supply.

Tools tailored to order:

Often, scientists work so far "in advance" that tools they need for research haven't been built—or invented. At the new Shell laboratory they have machine shops capable of handling heavy pipes or hair-like wires... and a completely equipped glass-blowing room—to build needed instruments to their design.

Doctors of Conservation:

Aside from its vitally important research experiments, the new laboratory serves as a school. With its help, exploration and production field men can keep abreast of newly developed techniques for finding and producing petroleum—and pass them along to their colleagues working "in oil."

Demands for over 1,200 different petroleum products continue to grow. The new Exploration and Production Research Laboratory is Shell's latest step to insure continued supplies to meet these needs.

A Merry Christmas To All

Newton Notables

By SARAH SHIELDS PFEFFER

JOHN B. STARKWEATHER

If you should ask Jack Starkweather "What are your hobbies?" he'll only reply with a twinkle in his brown eyes: "My two sons say I have only one—Scouting!"

Yes, everyone who knows the Starkweathers of 59 Pigeon Hill road, Auburndale, associates the family with long and continuous service to the good cause of Boy Scouting. Oh, of course, we realize that Jack is the capable vice-president of the Starkweather Engineering Co. in Newtonville, but Scouting has been of even longer interest to him. It is synonymous with Jack's name and familiar face.

He was one of the first three boys in New England to receive an Eagle Scout award at memorable ceremonies in Harvard Stadium. His sons—Bill, now a freshman at the University of Massachusetts, and David, president of Warren Junior High—became Eagle Scouts simultaneously at a Court of Honor this year. And what's more, father and sons are now studying to obtain the five additional merit badges for an even higher rank, the Bronze Palm!

Jack Starkweather is a lean and wiry man of average height. Behind his glasses you notice green flecks in his large brown eyes. His brown hair has a startling blond streak running down the center. "This was the result of a motorcycle smash-up while I was at Massachusetts Institute of Technology," Jack will tell you ruefully. "I broke innumerable bones, stayed in the hospital three months, was delayed in college a year and came out with the trademark of a perpetual light streak in front and a smaller one at the back of my hair. Due to shock from the accident, the doctors tell me."

Pressed for more biographical facts, Jack will add that he was born in Milwaukee but moved east in 1907. He went through Newton grammar and high schools, serving as president of the Junior and Senior classes. Stationed at M.I.T. for a year during the first World War, he was graduated there in 1922. Then followed work in civil engineering, hydro-electric and other construction work in Connecticut, California, British Columbia, Alaska, the Philippines, Mexico and the Carolinas.

In South Carolina Jack met and married Ellen Long, a musician and graduate of Peabody Conservatory of Music. They moved north in 1927. Out riding one Sunday afternoon the Starkweather saw a lot for sale on a high bluff overlooking the Charles River just above Norumbega. "Let's build our home here!" was their mutual thought. So they designed this house of their dreams. And it's a dream that continues to grow in beauty with the years. It's latest addition is a pine-paneled sitting room over the garage. Jack and the boys built it with plenty of bunks for extra guests. And the trio even built a sailboat in their basement.

"Er—did you have any trouble getting the boat out afterwards?" I asked, remembering classic stories of people who had built too large for their cellars. Too late, I realized Jack belongs to the American Society of Civil Engineers and the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers.

He almost doubled up with laughter as he put his pipe aside. "Of course not! It was only a ten foot sailboat to take to our summer camp on College Pond in Plymouth."

Then I recalled that hundreds of Scouts had been rewarded for work well done, by a weekend visit to this Plymouth camp. Somehow Ellen Starkweather has the knack of accommodating and feeding there a great many of these khaki-clad youths.

And this love of the outdoors unites the Starkweathers in another hobby. Last summer Ellen and David went with Jack on a wilderness camping trip in northern Maine. The year before Jack and the boys shared this exhilaration. And from such a rugged constitution Jack has contributed almost two gallons of blood to the Blood Bank in Boston where he worked as a volunteer. In addition he teamed with fifteen Auburndale men in working at Newton-Wellesley hospital one night a week during the war. They painted walls and furniture, scrubbed floors, did much of the hard labor that a hospital could not manage during the war. Meanwhile, Ellen worked as a Gray Lady there. During this period Jack refused a commission in order to finish the Starkweather Engineering Co.'s contracts with the Army, Navy and Engineer Corps at air bases, navy yards, Oak Ridge, etc.

And now back to Scout work. Jack's present official title, chairman of Norumbega Council Camping Committee, indicates how hard he continues to work for the 1200 Boy Scouts in Newton and Wellesley. His program is to make available and to oversee the cabin and outdoor camping, the Nobscot Guide courses and the camporees. His initiation into the delights of the 500-acre Nobscot reservation came during the many years he had been chairman and Scoutmaster of Troop 15 in Auburndale.

Emergency Housing Board Reverses Decision of Board of Aldermen In Waban Housing Project

City to Ask Court to Review Case to Determine if Comm. Had Power to Make Finding

The State Emergency Housing Board, in a decision handed down December 12, has approved the proposal of Messrs. Earl E. Davis and Harold M. Hatfield to build seven "garden type" apartment buildings in the vicinity of Montclair Road and Mofat Road in Waban.

This decision is a reversal of that made by the Board of Aldermen and the City Board of Appeals which rejected the proposal in spite of the approval of the City Planning Board. The plan was rejected by these bodies on a petition by Mr. Davis to rezone the land from a single residence "B" district to a general residence district.

The State Board held up the Community Chorus to Present Second Christmas Concert at H.S. Dec. 23d

The second annual Christmas Concert by the Community Chorus of the Newtons will be given in the High School auditorium next Tuesday evening, December 23rd, at 8 p.m. Organized in the spring of 1946, the Chorus gave two extremely well received concerts last season, the previous Christmas program being given out of doors at the Newton War Memorial.

The Chorus was again fortunate this season in securing the services of Ralph Schoonmaker and Robert K. Love, director and accompanist, respectively. Both are well-known and highly regarded. The Chorus this season totals about 100 voices, and the choral portions of the program next Tuesday evening will consist entirely of Christmas music, some traditional, some modern. In addition to the singing, Mr. Love will render two piano solos during the program, and the concert will begin and end with a rendering of carols by a noted high school brass choir.

Another impressive innovation this year will be the staging of the concert in the High School auditorium. The setting for the Chorus will be a simulated chancel, with illuminated stained glass effects for the windows. These windows have been kindly lent for the occasion by Charles J. Connick Association of Boston—nationally famous for their religious stained glass creations.

Candlelight Carol Service at Unitarian Church Newt. Ctr.

On Christmas Eve, at seven o'clock, the Unitarian Church of Newton Centre, Centre and Cypress streets, will be the scene of a beautiful Carol and Candle Light Service, according to the recently called Minister, the Rev. Orrin J. Kosmo, B.D. Mr. Kosmo has pointed out that this type Christmas Eve Service meets with such a warm response on the part of the members and the public, not only because of its beauty of worship and loveliness of song, but because of the democratic participation of all worshippers who attend. In this Service of Carol and Candle Light every worshipper receives a candle as they go to their pew. As the Service approaches the climax the ushers come forward to have their candles lightened from the Minister's candle which is on the altar. The ushers then proceed to the worshippers at the end of each pew whose candle is

Nearly 700 Veterans Apply for Homes in Proposed Oak Hill Project

Registration at the office of the Veterans Service Department for homes at the proposed Oak Hill Development closed on Wednesday with nearly 700 applications having been signed by veterans.

The Veterans Service Department is now prepared to recommend to the Board of Aldermen at the next meeting on Monday night that action be taken authorizing the builders to proceed with the project.

The ordinance adopted at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Dec. 8 calls for the establishment of a veteran housing department administered by a board to be appointed by the mayor. The appointments probably will be made early in January by the incoming mayor.

Christmas - 1897

As Christmas approaches, memories of oldsters in Wards 1 and 7 who attended the Bigelow School a half-century and more ago revert back to the annual reading of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" by Henry Chapin Sawin, for 30 years the beloved master of that school.

Each year in the fortnight preceding Christmas "Daddy" Sawin would have the pupils gather in the assembly hall of the old school, and with intense sincerity he would read to them in several installments the story of Tiny Tim, Scrooge and Marley.

There were no "movies" in those days and no radio, and the annual recitation by Mr. Sawin of Dickens' masterpiece afforded pleasure to the lovable, little graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy, and enjoyment to his young auditors. Presents were not lavished on children then as in later years because money was far less plentiful. But, in many ways it was a more happy world. Peace reigned, wars were supposed to be horrors of the past. No fear of atomic bombs and biological warfare worried people.

Would that the real spirit of Christmas as depicted by Dickens and propagated by Henry Chapin Sawin dominated this world today.

Don't Forget the Shut-Ins

In this season of the year when joy and good will are supposed to motivate people, don't forget the shut-ins. Those patient invalids, for the most part aged, who resignedly await and pray for release from their sufferings. Many are in institutions, forgotten and friendless. Giving even a little gift to such as these will be a real manifestation of Christian charity. The most pathetic cases are those in State hospitals. Superintendents of these hospitals will gladly receive contributions for their patients.

F. A. Day Junior High "News Of The Day"

A special assembly under the auspices of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America was presented on Friday morning. Richard Harvey of grade nine and Troop 1, was the student chairman who introduced Mr. John Adams, Assistant Scout Commissioner, who spoke of scouting in general and urged all boys interested to fill out applications or contact other scouts for information. He then introduced David Starkweather of Troop 15 who told of his adventures on the Wilderness Canoe Trip in Maine. Paul Murphy of Ship 13, Sea Scouts, explained sea scouting and spoke of a week's sail along the New England coast, and Tom Linden of Troop 5 explained the work and fun of a visit to Philmont, New Mexico, the National Scout Ranch. Mr. William Small, field secretary, spoke of the Long Train hikes through the mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire. A motion picture of activities at Nobscoot Reservation ended the assembly.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note.)

Look Magazine

May I urge my readers to pick up a copy of Look magazine for Dec. 23 or to read it at the public library if it cannot be located otherwise. Curiously enough, the cover features "Look's All-American Football Team" and, in smaller type just beneath, "How 10 Top Candidates for President Stand on 10 Basic Issues."

It may be wise for me to make a few comments about this article in case it cannot be readily bought right now. The ten candidates referred to include six of your columnist's Big Eight Republicans and two leading Democrats, President Truman and his former friend and associate, Henry Wallace. The G. O. P. candidates are Messrs. Dewey, Eisenhower, Speaker Martin, Saltonstall, Stassen, Taft, Vandenberg and Warren. (Eisenhower and Martin take the place of Lodge and Bricker on my own list.)

The ten basic issues concerning which these ten men were quizzed include our Russian policy, European Aid, labor, taxes, housing, health, price control, military power, (including, of course, the much-debated issue of peace-time conscription), atomic energy and education. It seems to be that look has made an excellent selection of issues confronting our Congress and our people today.

Now, please note the following carefully. Senators Vandenberg and Taft and Speaker Martin "participated personally in the presentation of summaries of their views. New, exclusive statements came from Gov. Earl Warren, (his first on the range of national issues), from Harold E. Stassen and Henry A. Wallace." It is then announced that Gov. Dewey's staff and Senator Saltonstall's staff, as well as President Truman's secretariat vouched for the accuracy of the views of their superiors. "Only Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower remained completely aloof." However, his views are obtained from his public speeches.

One point to which I wish to call special attention is this: our own Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of No. Attleborough was completely inarticulate on four of the ten basic issues. All he had to say was "No Comment" on Russian policy, Military Power, Atomic Energy and Education. And yet all the professional politicians have reason to believe that Martin would be overjoyed if the Presidential nomination eventually came his way. My own feeling is that there is no reason whatsoever for including in a list of ten Presidential possibilities a man who declines, even at this early date, to comment on three very hot and controversial issues. His failure to comment in detail on education is, perhaps, not so important.

Speaker Martin, however, was not the only gentleman in the list of ten who said, "No Comment." General Eisenhower appears to have maintained silence, in his public speeches at least, on the important questions of taxes and education. We do, though, know his views concerning three of the major issues which Mr. Martin dodged, when interviewed. Then we find that Senator Vandenberg declined to comment on Housing and that Governor Dewey said "No Comment" on Atomic Energy. Not so good. It seems to me that the Governor of our largest state, who was the G. O. P.'s 1944 candidate for President, should be willing to state his views on atomic energy right this minute. Everybody knows that he is running as hard as he can run for the Republican nomination, even though he has not technically announced his candidacy. His friends admit that he does not propose to announce his candidacy until the June, 1948 convention. What a nerve he has. Do not think that your columnist is unfriendly to the New Yorker, however. He is a brilliant Governor and a Grade A citizen in many, many ways. Personally, I find him a bit too cozy, cautious and mechanical. Like many other Americans, I want a frank, courageous man who is unafraid of anybody or anything and who can inspire all of us to fight as hard for peace as we fought for the successful conclusion of the recent world war.

Soon after New Year's you will find further comment in this space about the Look article.

Veterans Housing

One of our very prominent columnists in this area felt moved a few days ago to point out the fact that Newton, like so many other cities and towns, seems to find it tremendously difficult to find housing. As he states, every body goes through the motion of sincerely WANTING to build houses for our war veterans, but when an apparent solution is found, there is immediate and very articulate objection raised, sometimes by the very people who give lip service to the veterans. Any location but the one proposed would be better, etc., etc., ad nauseam.

Well, even poor old Boston seems to be making a little headway. Also, just a day or two ago, information was given me regarding the temporary solution of at least a part of the housing problem in Holyoke. Why cannot Newton move as fast and as smoothly as Holyoke? Let's cut out some of the stale alibis after New Year's and get down to cases and DO SOMETHING.

Watch Cambridge

Fortunately for Cambridge, City Manager Atkinson, who has done such an outstanding job for his community, has declined the Hartford, Conn. offer of a position, carrying a substantially larger salary. Watch the behavior of the City Council in the immediate future. A few pols want to remove him.

P. W. C.

Notables—

My pencil was moving fast as the interview drew to a close. "Any other interests?" I asked. "Oh," he said casually, "I like swimming and fancy diving. And for another word of relaxation I read 'who-dun-it's'."

"A mystery story fan, I see!" "Yes, but my sons are right—Scouting is my only real hobby." Then I left with the thought that, literally, hundreds of boys can be very grateful for Jack Starkweather's unselfish hobby.

This Is Christmas

We hail the Christmas season in a reverent frame of mind, thankful that a Prince was born to better humankind. The younger hearts are all aglow with thoughts of good Saint Nick, some wondering what it's all about and what makes Christmas click. Sometimes they don't get sleepy the night of trimming tree, exasperating Mom and Dad when they want liberty. Of course they hold back cuss-words in trying to find safe places to hide their Christmas gifts 'til morn, with sombre "new look" faces. The air is full of mystery and everything is set, so now they lie themselves to bed their "forty winks" to get. The lights are out, they're on their way, when bang a "woof" and "wail!" "I'm sure a 'jinx'" thought Daddy as he stepped on the poor cat's tail. For long it comes the daylight, young voices then hear, and seconds later noise from toys and animated gear. How happy are those little hearts as their radiant faces shine! . . . all hail our mystic Christmas, God-given and divine. . . . Let Christmas be within the heart as well as in the hand, to perpetuate this wondrous story some day we may understand.

Christmas Cantata at Baptist Church

The choir of the First Baptist Church in Newton will present a new Christmas cantata "From the Realm of Glory," on Sunday evening, Dec. 21 at 8:30, with the composer, Gerald Frazee, who is Dean of the Massachusetts Guild of Organists, is the composer of many published church works. The cantata will be given its first performance on Sunday.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The December meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held in the Workshop on December 18 at 8 o'clock. There will be a special Christmas program with violin solos by Valen- go Kangro, and cello solos by Kaljo Raid. The hostesses will be Mrs. Herbert Anderson, Mrs. Lincoln Alvord and Mrs. James Cooper, 2nd.

After the musical program there will follow a social hour with refreshments. The evergreen snags made for the Veterans Hospital will be on display.

Newton Community Club

On Thursday, December 11th, the Newton Community Club enjoyed an unusual Christmas program. Mrs. Edgar M. Horne selected and read stories of six well known Madonnas from "The World's Great Madonnas," by Cynthia Pearl Maus, and narrated a brief biography of each artist as well as the story of each picture shown.

The beautiful and colorful paintings were most faithfully portrayed by Mrs. Everett Olds, Mrs. William Wasson, Mrs. Irving Hall, Mrs. Frank Willson, Mrs. Durham Jones Jr., and Mrs. Chester Smith.

The second half of the program was given by a group of choir boys from All Saints Church in Worcester, they were fifteen cherubs and sang with such true precision and earnestness that it added greatly to a very fine afternoon's entertainment.

At the end of the program Mrs. Thompson Stone, program chairman, presented Mrs. Horne with a beautiful corsage of butterfly orchids which had been flown from Honolulu, Hawaii.

First carol singers were "waits" or watchmen of London. On Christmas they sang and blew horns.

A CHRISTMAS CARD, made from this photo, was sent by the Carl H. Alvord family of Newton Centre to their host of friends this year. The youngsters are children of the Alvords and are familiar to hundreds of Newton Centre residents. They are, left to right: Jimmy 14, Mary 15, Lucille 17, and Jack 16. The three oldest children help out after school at Hahn's Drug Store which Mr. Alvord acquired 3½ years ago. Their friendly personalities have made a hit with the store's patrons, and they have had a prominent part in maintaining the friendly atmosphere which has characterized Hahn's for 50 years.

tional Director of Civic Relations of the Boy Scouts of America, and developed plans for Elk participation.

"Already we have 30 lodges of Elks sponsoring Boy Scout troops and Cub Packs," Lewis declared, "but our goal is to have every one of our 1,475 lodges cooperate with from one to three local Scout units. More than one million boys—nearly 1,100,000—reach twelve years of age each year and 700,000 of them indicate they want to become Boy Scouts. Yet only 400,000 can be accepted because of insufficient sponsorship. We want to help provide Scouting facilities for the 300,000 left-overs and we mean to furnish funds and offer many of our war veteran Elks as Scout leaders and committeemen."

"The 68,000 Boy Scout troops for nearly two million Scout members are not enough. We have seen militant minorities working for some revolution or other; why not the militant minority of Scout-trained citizens sponsored by Elks who stand for our best institutions and traditions?"

Mr. Lewis quoted with pride the figures of Admiral Chester Nimitz that 40 per cent of his men had been Boy Scouts and that 60 per cent of his decorated heroes had been Scouts.

The new Elks' chieftain has arranged itineraries totalling 150,000 miles of travel to subordinate lodges this year. On his visitations he plans to pledge more vigorously than ever the Elks' campaign against internal enemies of America. The particular targets of the Elks are the Ku Klux Klan, Communism, Fascism and other subversive elements.

In its 79-year history the B. P.

O. E. has donated to worthy causes more than $72,000,000, reaching a total of $5,000,000 during the past year alone in addition to other sums given by local lodges. Lewis expects basic contributions this year will total more than $12,000,000. Much of this will go for care of war veterans in 152 hospitals in 41 states, for the benefit of crippled children and toward college scholarships to outstanding secondary school students.

The Newton Lodge, upon recommendation of Exalted Ruler Nicholas Veducchio, voted on December 1st to sponsor Norumbega Council Scout Troop 3 of Nonantum, and have approved the sum between $300 and $500 to repair and maintain its cabin at Nobscot.

Newton Lion Club

The Newton Lions Club, George Pascoe, President, had as its speaker this week Mayor-elect Theodore R. Lockwood, who gave an interesting picture of the scope of the work attended to by our Aldermen, beginning with a technical weeks' correspondence received by them. Showing the many and varied items that are brought to their attention, each of which, regardless of how small, required special thought and study. Mrs. Lockwood also spoke in detail of the Veteran's Housing program. Frank Andersen of the Andersen Laboratory Reports was the pianist, substituting for Dr. Charles Hall, who was ill.

Edward Hickey of Austin street, sponsored by Richard Fennelly, was inducted by Lion, Ralph Sanguinetti.

Other visitors were: Clifford Nelson, Past Pres. Reading Lions Club, and teacher of Science at Weeks Jr. High School, introduced by Ralph Sanguinetti; Sidney Walton, Travel Agent, B. & M. R. R. of Portland Maine Lions Club; John Wallace of Newton Flower shop; John Kelly of Newtonville and Edward Grethe, Jr. The Annual Christmas party, under Lewis Tedstone, takes place this Thursday night, where the Washing Machine and Ironer will be presented.

Hon. Paul M. Goddard and Mrs. Goodard and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert C. Thompson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will attend.

Christmas Carols will be sung in a varied way to the accompaniment of the Glee Club Harmonizers under Maestro Jack Tapper.

Newton Dist. Nursing Association Holds Joint Meeting

The December meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton District Nursing Association was held at the Second Church in West Newton. Bouillon was served by the program committee preceding the meeting.

In accordance with a suggestion by the Massachusetts Organization for Public Health Nursing that board members of community agencies have joint meetings wherein ideas and problems could be discussed, this organization complied by holding a "Board Members Forum." All the details of the meeting were capably arranged by Mrs. Forte and Mrs. Pillsbury.

Representatives from Belmont, Boston, Brookline, Dedham, Waltham, Wellesley, Winchester and Needham invited to participate in the discussions which were ably led by Mrs. Philip Eisman, past president of the Massachusetts Organization of Public Health Nursing.

Mrs. Eisman opened the Forum by outlining the three subjects to be discussed, stressing the value of such a meeting with its exchange of ideas, successes and failures and every day problems.

The first subject, industrial nursing, was presented by Mrs. Thomas Worcester, president of the Waltham Visiting Nurse Association, who briefly outlined the inception of this type of nursing and gave its present status in Waltham. The two features which characterized the success of this type of nursing are first, the importance of part time nursing service in a small industry where it would not be feasible to employ a full time nurse and second, the profitable results in a community chest drive from the employee satisfactory experience with the services of a Community Chest Agency.

Mrs. Horatio Rogers, chairman of the Nursing Committee of the Newton District Nursing Association, presented the second subject which was Personnel Policies. This discussion emphasized the importance of having a good relationship between the nurse and her work. She must have adequate salary and good working conditions in order to derive joy and inspiration from her job.

The third phase of the Forum was discussed by Mrs. Winslow Howland, chairman of Public Relations who clarified the three major responsibilities of any

This program was a gift from Miss A. Gertrude Osborne, chairman of the evening. The Christmas decorations the work of the Art Committee were beautiful and colorful. Miss Helen Browne, Hostess, assisted by the Hospitality Committee served delicious refreshments.

Be sure and keep Yule tree in water from time you bring it home. Make fresh saw cut across the trunk base before setting up. Place tree in water containing holder, and fill it daily. Remove dry tree from premises immediately after holidays.

Chimes Dedication Service

At the First Methodist Church, Newton Upper Falls on Sunday, December 21, at 10:30 a.m., a beautiful set of Deagan Chimes will be dedicated to the Glory of God and the services of Christian worship in memory of Mrs. Jane D. Hartshorn, who passed away on December 13, 1946, and who for many years was a loyal member of the First Methodist Church and a former member of the music committee of the church.

These beautiful chimes are given by her husband, Mr. Alfred P. Hartshorn and will be played for the first time on Sunday by their daughter, Mrs. Margaret Hartshorn Remond, former organist of the Church for this impressive Dedication Service.

Christmas

When will Joy-bells say
Peace on earth to-day?
Pray God speed the day;
Teach mere man the way.

Child-like, our faith must rise
Like incense to the skies,
'Til humble folk, and wise
To Bethlehem turn their eyes.

O Star of Hope arise!
To the heavens draw all eyes.
Bid wranglers lie cease;
Our world will then know peace.

Bits From Bigelow

Now that the hockey season is over for the Bigelow girls, we are supervising our basketball teams. Last Monday a meeting was held in the gym for the ninth grade girls to select and organize teams. The same procedure followed for the eighth grade girls on Wednesday. This week the ninth grade girls have played one game, not including regular gym classes, and the eighth grade girls have played their first game. The seventh grade girls have not had basketball, as Miss Godfrey has been busy starting the two higher grades. There will be a weekly schedule of girls' basketball, the most popular sport around the school.

Practical Arts, P. A. as the classes call it, is an exploratory subject. We have a well equipped shop. There are courses in woodwork, graphic arts, and metal work. Shop is compulsory for the seventh and eighth grades, and for ninth grade it is an elective. Some of the projects that have been completed are windmills, bookends, tie racks, weather vanes, lamps, tables, book cases, and one boy has gone so far as to make a small wooden motor.

The Bigelow Junior High School orchestra holds rehearsals every Tuesday morning under the direction of Miss Hubbard.

On Thursday, December 4, the orchestra played at an assembly about fire prevention.

As the school came into the auditorium the orchestra played the "On Parade March". They played "America" while the school sang and played again as the school marched out.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

“IS THE UNIVERSE, INCLUD-ING MAN EVOLVED BY ATOM-IC FORCE?” is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, December 21. GOLDEN TEXT: “The word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth.”
“For he spake, and it was done;
he commanded, and it stood fast” (Psalms 33:4,9). SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King
James Version) include:
“In the beginning God created the heaven and earth. . . .
And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good” (Genesis 1:1,31). Correlative passages from “Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures” by Mary Baker Eddy include:
“Science reveals only one Mind, and this one shining by its own light and governing the universe, including man, in perfect harmony. This Mind forms ideas, its own images, subdivides and radiates their borrowed light, intelligence, and so explains the Scripture phrase, ‘whose seed is in itself.’ Thus God’s ideas ‘multiply and replenish the earth.’
The divine Mind supports the sublimity, magnitude, and infinitude of spiritual creation” (p.
510-511).

Grandparent honors are shared by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fabian Bachrach of West Newton and Dr. and Mrs. Gustavus J. Esselen of Swampscott.

Each year in the United States, rats eat as much feed as 265,000 farmers can produce.

Births

Schwamb - Mulloy

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwamb of East Boston, have announced the marriage of their daughter Miss Claire R. Schwamb to Francis L. Mulloy of 25 Ocean View street, last Monday evening at St. Mary's Star of the Sea church.

The bride was dressed in a white satin gown and carried a bouquet of white roses. Maid of honor was Miss Eileen Schwamb, sister of the bride. She was dressed in a blue gown. Best man was James Mulloy, brother of the groom.

Following a reception which was attended by relatives and friends, the bride and groom left for New York where they will spend their honeymoon. The couple upon returning, will reside in Winthrop.

RECENT DEATHS

Augusta Lane Patrick

Miss Augusta Lane Patrick died at her home, 4 Wadman Circle, Lexington, Mass., suddenly on Wednesday evening.

Miss Patrick was born in West Newton September 19, 1869, the daughter of the late Rev. Henry J. Patrick and Martha L. Patrick. She was graduated from the Newton High School and from Mount Holyoke College and attended her 50th reunion at Mount Holyoke last June.

For a time she was supervisor of Physical Education at the Montclair, New Jersey High School after which she became head of the Physical Education Department at the Barringer High School, Newark, New Jersey where she remained for many years until her retirement.

Upon her retirement Miss Patrick took up modeling and had created many figures and had reliefs which have been frequently exhibited. Her last piece, of a young boy, was completed only two weeks ago and has been adulated by critics as her best work.

She is survived by her sister with whom she lived, by a brother, Arthur L. Patrick of Centerville, Cape Cod, and by six nephews and nieces. Another brother, Henry B. Patrick, prominent Boston attorney, died last April.

Services will be held in the Newton Cemetery Chapel on Saturday, December 20, at 2 p. m. Interment will be in the Newton Cemetery.

Martin J. Higgins

Funeral services for Martin J. Higgins, husband of the late Delia (Doyle) Higgins were held Saturday morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Peter W. Ryan of 96 Harvard street, Newtonville. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady at 10 o'clock. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

Mr. Higgins, a landscape gardener and resident of Newton for 50 years, died on Tuesday, December 9. He was born in County Galway, Ireland, the son of Thomas and Margaret (Long) Higgins. He was a member of Middlesex Court, M.C.O.F., and of Our Lady's Holy Name Society.

antiques. His shop, Colonial in atmosphere, in Chatham, has a fine collection of antiques, besides, of course, Oriental rugs. The study of American history together with the writing of a book on Orientals (to be finished, incidentally, by fall) and his lectures occupies much of his time. The history of the Kashan, Saraband, Sarouk, Herat - or any of Mr. Gregorian's rugs could not be more fascinating than the story of the little boy who fled from the Turks and is now one of the leading rug merchants in this part of the country.

A ton of peanuts in the shell will yield from 480 to 580 pounds of peanut oil, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Forty-five to 50 per cent of each peanut is oil.

John L. McBride

Funeral services for John L. McBride of 60 Webster street, West Newton were held Friday morning from the Thomas J. Lyons Funeral Home, 1479 Washington street, West Newton. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in St. Bernard's Church by Rev. John J. Crane, S. T. L., pastor, assisted by Rev. Francis P. Sullivan as deacon and Rev. John A. Saunders, sub-deacon.

Members of the Newton Street Department who served as pallbearers were Arthur English, Thomas Menard, William Dehanty, Robert Thompson, Mark Devane and John Russo. A delegation was present from Newton Local, City Employees Union, led by Richard A. Murphy and John L. Foley. Color bearers from Newton Post, American Legion were under the direction of Sergeant-at-Arms John T. Roadman.

Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Fr. Saunders.

Mr. McBride died suddenly on Tuesday, December 9. He was in his 61st year and was born in West Newton, the son of Simon and Catherine (Morrison) McBride. He has been employed by the Newton Street Department as foreman at the City Stable in West Newton. He was a charter member of Newton Post, American Legion, of Newton Local City Employees Union, A. F. of L., and St. Bernard's Holy Name Society.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Florence Horan of Cambridge, and three brothers, William of Nashua, New Hampshire, Thomas of Belmont and Arthur McBride of Natick.

Gas Lights on Windemere Road, Auburndale to Stay

The Windemere road residents of Auburndale who protested the removal of the quaint gas lights from their neighborhood met in committee at a hearing at City Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 12. It was decided that the gas lights would not be replaced by overhead lights for the time being. Neither the city nor the Boston Edison Company has as yet a long term lighting program.

—The very moment everything looks serene, all hell breaks loose.

Rotary Club

Louis H. Young of Auburndale, vice-president of the Gillette Safety Razor Company, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday.

The Gillette Company, Mr. Young stated, has factories in operation in Boston, London, Canada, South America, Switzerland, Germany and Paris, France. During the war the German factory was stripped by the Russians and in order for the company to again start production there, they had to buy back steel from the Russians. The Paris factory which had been run by the Germans during the war, is now back in the hands of its owners.

The company makes 2,500,000 blades annually and in the research laboratory which has been set up by Mr. Young, constant tests are being made for new products. When a new product proves successful, a huge task of merchandising is undertaken so that all of the distributors in the country may release the new product simultaneously. Before the war only Swedish steel was used in making the blades, but now the American steel manufacturers have developed a steel superior to the imported product, Mr. Young stated.

The 3400 employees in the Boston factory, he said, have no union and are paid high wages, as well as having free life insurance, free accident and health insurance, a free pension plan and frequent bonuses.

Mr. Young predicted that the first six months of the coming year will be prosperous ones for this country.

An engineer by training, he stated that his son attended the Newton Junior College for a year and lauded the school for its excellent basic engineering course.

Women's Economic Independence Factor in Divorces

Community Should Provide Recreation for Family as a Unit, Dr. DeNood Says

The modern community's failure to provide opportunities for like to meet and marry like is a basic factor in the alarming increase in the divorce rate within recent years, declared Dr. Neal B. DeNood, Associate Professor of Sociology at Smith College, before the monthly meeting of the Newton Community Council's Conference and Study Group Tuesday evening, December 16.

Taking as his thesis that divorce is the consequence of community life, Dr. DeNood pointed out four ways in which the community was at the root of family discord. He deplored the complete absence in modern life of community controls on what he termed "mixed mating"—the marriage of persons of widely differing backgrounds and tastes, declaring that there was no central value to hold such marriages together.

The services offered by the community for the ease and convenience of the family are another disrupting influence on family solidarity, according to Dr. DeNood, since the group, such as the family, tends to hold together when individual members are performing functions for one another.

A most important factor in the breakdown of the family, Dr. DeNood felt, has arisen from the economic independence of women, particularly since the First World War. In an urban society status for women has come to depend more than anything else on appearance he declared, and thus the economically independent woman tends to outrank her married sister in this respect.

As a solution to the growing divorce problem, it is the community's responsibility, Dr. DeNood said, to combat the misconception, popularized by screen and radio, that "love conquers all." Every group in the community should provide an opportunity for young people to get together, he declared.

The community should provide recreation for the family as a unit and the churches too should do more in this direction, instead of aiming so intently at providing specialization for the individual, Dr. DeNood asserted.

As to the status problem of the discontented housewife, Dr. DeNood felt that the community should give a much truer evaluation of the services rendered by the housewife and mother.

Auburndale Garden Club

A very fine meeting is being planned by the Auburndale Garden Club for Thursday, December 18, from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Azel Collins is chairman of the Christmas shop and Mrs. Flint Taylor is chairman of the tea committee. Others working on the committee are Mrs. C. Purcher, Mrs. C. Grover, Mrs. W. Biddle, Mrs. W. Howland, Mrs. R. Letteney, Mrs. N. Bruce, Mrs. I. Kelley, Mrs. E. G. Bates, Mrs. R. Balch, Mrs. B. Heath and Mrs. G. Boucher. The following homes will be decorated for Christmas: Mrs. Chas. Weden, 22 Central street; Mrs. Richard Kenney, 52 Central street; Mrs. George Armstrong, 54 Day street; Mrs. Harold Carnes, 18 Hawthorne avenue; Mrs. Paul Chandler, 52 Vista avenue. The dining room in each home will be decorated for different occasions: a children's Christmas party, a dinner, a buffet supper, a luncheon and a tea.

Tea will be served at Mrs. Chandler's home from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The club will repeat the Christmas Shop which will be open during the afternoon and evening at Mrs. Chandler's home. Table decorations, swags, forced bulbs, window wreaths and other greens and decorations will be on sale. The proceeds will benefit the Garden Club's service which includes their work in the Brighton Marine Hospital.

Newton Methodist Church To Hold Watch Service

A Youth Christmas Sunday Morning Watch Service will be held this Sunday at 8 a. m., at the Newton Methodist Church, corner Centre and Wesley streets. All young people in greater Newton, Waltham, Weston, Watertown, Brighton, Wellesley and Needham are invited.

The Rev. Emory S. Bucke, editor of Zions Herald in Boston, and a resident of Auburndale, will bring the Christmas message. Mr. Allen Burges, president of the Senior Youth Fellowship in the Newton Methodist church, is in charge of the program and will be assisted by young people from other churches. An offering will be taken and used to buy CARE packages.

Bloodmobiles at B.C. Get Donations From 164 Students

The Mobile Unit of the State Blood Program made a visit to Boston College on Monday and Tuesday December 15 and 16, to receive donations from recruits solicited by the Red Cross, Newton Chapter. 164 students responded to this appeal to protect themselves and their families for all their blood needs for a year period. Leaders on the campus, including John Furey, football captain, and Charles Litvinchuck, basketball captain, were among those who contributed.

Under the direction of Father McManus, dean of the School of Business Administration, the College gave complete cooperation to the Red Cross in its efforts to meet the Newton quota for 1947. Mrs. F. Brittain Kennedy, Blood Donor chairman, expressed appreciation for the way in which Father Kelleher, President, gave sympathetic help to this humanitarian project. Working with Mrs. Kennedy in making arrangements were Mrs. Paul M. Goddard, vice-chairman of the program, and Mrs. Billings Harris, executive director of the Newton Chapter.

Y.M.C.A. Closed Christmas Day
